Republican County Nominations.

[illegible] DISTRICT—VAN H. HIGGINS, S. L. BAKER.

FOR SHERIFF,

Trumbull at Joliet.

The citizens of half a dozen of the surrounding Counties will remember that Hon. Lyman Trumbull will address them in Mass Meeting at Joliet, on Tuesday, September 12th. Should the weather be pleasant, this will be one of the largest and most interesting meetings of the campaign.

The Galena R. R. and the Chicago, Fulton and Mississippi R. R. Bridge.

In pursuance of a notice issued by the Directors of the Galena and Chicago Union Railroad, calling a meeting of the stockholders to vote upon the leasing of the Chicago, Fulton and Mississippi Railroad Bridge, the vote was taken at the rooms of the Company yesterday, and resulted in the defeat of the proposed contract by 5,025 (shares) in the affirmative to 20,088 in the negative.

The circumstances calling for this meeting and vote, were as follows: At the June meeting for the election of Directors, a resolution was introduced by Mr. F. Bronson, of New York, requiring future enterprises in the way of construction, or contracts with other roads, to be submitted to a vote of all the stockholders, instead of being decided by the Directors, as formerly. This resolution was itself submitted to the stockholders and decided in the affirmative; that is, it was made the future policy of the Company by a vote of 217 stockholders, representing 12,315 shares, against 18, representing 561 shares—1,195 holders not voting at all.

The Directors of the Co. have had the subject of a bridge across the Mississippi at Fulton under consideration for about a year. The necessity for the work is obvious to any one who considers the expense attending the transhipment and ferriage of every article and pound of freight which seeks the Chicago market from Iowa. Fifty miles of the Chicago, Iowa and Nebraska Railroad are already completed from Clinton (opposite Fulton) westward, and the iron and grading are ready for thirty miles more. The construction of the bridge would be equivalent to adding this length of track to the Galena road. It was proposed by the Directors to enter into a contract with a private company composed of Galena stockholders—the latter to build the bridge under the direction of the Railroad Company, and place it in their hands, and the former to pay 8 per cent. per annum on its cost with the privilege of buying it at any time after the year 1870 at cost. The estimated cost of the work was from $350,000 to $400,000. The objection to the company's assuming the work itself and issuing its bonds or appropriating its earnings to this amount, lay in the probable depreciation of the stock, which would follow the company's appearance as borrowers on the market.

The above proposition was submitted to the stockholders by circular—each holder being allowed to take stock in the Bridge Company to an amount corresponding with his stock in the road. The project was defeated by the vote given above—about two-fifths of the whole number of shares being represented. This result is not regarded as by any means conclusive against the bridge, but as simply adverse to its construction on the above plan at the present time.

PROGRESS OF THE CAMPAIGN.

The Greatest Political Meeting Ever Held in Tazewell County.

Magnificent Reception of Mr. Lincoln at Pekin.

SEVEN THOUSAND PEOPLE IN COUNCIL.

[From the Peoria Transcript, Oct. 6th.]

All honor to the Republicans and Old Line Whigs of Tazewell County! Never was there a political meeting conceived and carried out in a more patriotic and liberal spirit than the Republican demonstration at Pekin on yesterday (Tuesday). It was by all odds, as all acknowledged, the largest political meeting ever held in Tazewell County, and will be memorable in its history. The Douglas-worshipping demonstration on Saturday was eclipsed by it in every particular. It was a larger collection of people, by far, than on Saturday, and all the arrangements were upon a more liberal and imposing scale. We have witnessed hundreds of political demonstrations in our day, but in size and enthusiasm, in popular, orderly, liberal and efficient management, the Republican demonstration at Pekin, yesterday, excelled any similar demonstration we ever witnessed.

Mr. Lincoln and Judge Kellogg left this city on the steamer Nile, at about 10 o'clock in the morning, accompanied by a small delegation of friends from this city. The boat arrived at Pekin at about 11 o'clock. Hundreds of citizens lined the banks waiting to receive the speakers, and the levee was alive with mounted marshals. Mr. Lincoln and Mr. Kellogg were waited upon to a carriage drawn by four beautiful cream colored horses gaily decked for the occasion, and a procession, headed by a fine band of music, was immediately formed and escorted the Republican champions to the handsome residence of J. Wagenseller, Esq., after which it dispersed for dinner.

In the meantime the town was filling up with people from every quarter of the county. They came into town in processions, headed by music, and bearing beautiful banners and flags of every description, and in single carriages and farm wagons. Those most sanguine in their anticipations of a large turn out, were astonished at the number of people who came pouring into the city. About half-past one o'clock a grand procession was formed, numbering one hundred and fifteen carriages and wagons, several teams carrying between thirty-five and forty persons each. We counted twenty-seven banners, and as many more flags and mottoes, all of them exceedingly appropriate and beautiful. As the procession passed the residence of Mr. Wagenseller, cheer after cheer arose for Mr. Lincoln and Judge Kellogg, who stood upon the balcony in the [illegible].

At about a quarter past two o'clock, the speakers were waited upon by a large delegation and escorted to Court House square. An immense concourse of people had here assembled, variously estimated at from six to eight thousand, and nothing could excel the arrangements which had been made for speaking. The stand was literally covered with flowers and wreaths of evergreens, tastefully arranged by the Republican ladies of Pekin, and flags, banners and streamers waved in profusion.

Mr. Lincoln was welcomed to Tazewell county and introduced to the audience by Judge Bush in a short and eloquently delivered speech, and when he came forward, was greeted with hearty applause. He commenced by alluding to the many years in which he had been intimately acquainted with most of the citizens of old Tazewell county, and expressed the pleasure which it gave him to see so many of them present. He then alluded to the fact that Judge Douglas, in a speech to them on Saturday, had, as he was credibly informed, made a variety of extraordinary statements concerning him. He had known Judge Douglas for twenty-five years, and was not now to be astonished by any statement which he might make, no matter what it might be. He was surprised, however, that his old political enemy but personal friend, Mr. John Haynes—a gentleman whom he had always regarded as a person of honor and veracity—should have made such statements about him as he was said to have made in a speech introducing Mr. Douglas to a Tazewell audience only three days before. He then rehearsed those statements, the substance of which was that Mr. Lincoln, while a member of Congress, helped [illegible] his brothers and friends in the Mexican war by voting against the bills appropriating to them money, provisions and medical attendance. He was grieved and astonished that a man whom he had heretofore respected so highly, should have been guilty of such false statements, and he hoped Mr. Haynes was present that he might hear his denial of them. He was not a member of Congress he said, until after the return of Mr. Haynes' brothers and friends from the Mexican war to their Tazewell county homes—was not a member of Congress until after the war had practically closed. He then went into a detailed statement of his election to Congress, and of the votes he gave, while a member of that body, having any connection with the Mexican war. He showed that upon all occasions he voted for the supply bills for the army, and appealed to the official record for a confirmation of his statement.

Mr. Lincoln then proceeded to notice, successively, the charges made against him by Douglas in relation to the Illinois Central Railroad, in relation to an attempt to Abolitionize the Whig party and in relation to negro equality.

After finishing his allusions to the special charges brought against him by his antagonist, Mr. Lincoln branched out into one of the most powerful and telling speeches he has made during the campaign. It was the most forcible arraignment against Mr. Douglas' Democracy, and the best vindication of and eloquent plea for Republicanism, that we ever listened to from any [illegible].

The effects of the two political demonstrations at Pekin—the one on Saturday by the worshippers of the Douglas, and the one yesterday by the Republicans—give our friends every encouragement. We feel, we know that they have resulted in adding to our ranks a large number. Hundreds of old Whigs in Tazewell who have heretofore taken no part in the contest, and who have been claimed by the Douglas worshippers, were thoroughly aroused for Lincoln.

Judge Kellogg spoke last evening at Pekin. We have no account as yet of his meeting.

Henry County.

The Douglasites are boasting about the streets that their candidate for the Legislature in the XLVIIIth District will be elected. They count on local divisions among the Republicans. Their candidate is Judge Gould. The District is composed of Henry, Mercer and Rock Island. The Dugites say that 500 Scandinavians are going for Douglas and Slavery, and that the Republicans will lose 1,000 votes in Henry as compared with the Fremont vote of 1856.

Now we do not believe a word of all this stuff, but publish it that our Republican friends in Henry may know upon what the Douglas worshippers are building their hopes of success.

The Illinois Central Railroad Suit.

The plaintiff in the suit of George C. Bates vs. the Illinois Central Railroad Company, verdict in which was given for the defendants, on Tuesday evening, came into Court yesterday morning and gave notice of intention to avail himself of his right in action of ejectment, to have the verdict set aside on payment of costs, for the purpose of a new trial; which will probably come before the U. S. Circuit Court in this city, in November next.

JERSEY COUNTY.—The Republicans and Old Line Whigs of the Representative District of Jersey and Calhoun Counties, have nominated Clarence Hamilton, Esq., of the former county, for Representative. At the same Convention Jersey County unanimously recommended Alexander B. Morean as candidate for Senator from the counties of Jersey, Green and Macoupin.

Supposed Attempt to Burn the Rock Island Bridge.

[From the Rock Island Commercial, 6th.]

Between one and two o'clock on Friday morning the attention of some of our citizens was was directed to what appeared to be a raft on fire, coming southward, on the river. They concluded it would burn up the bridge, but it passed through the second arch from the Island without injuring it. Mr. McNeil, Clerk of our Circuit Court, and Geo. Collins of the ferry, then put in a skiff to haul the burning map to shore if possible, partly out of curiosity, but more to prevent it from igniting other craft on the river. On approaching it they found it to be a burning house, of dimensions about 16x20. Great excitement has resulted in consequence of its having been a supposed attempt to fire the bridge by incendiaries. But to-day we learn the facts.—Among the squatters who settled on the island, between this city and Davenport, and who, it is said, have had a United States decision in favor of their claims as squatters, was a Mr. Skelton, who erected this house but subsequently came to reside in this city, leaving his tenement in possession of another of the old squatters. Subsequently there came a German from Davenport who jumped Skelton's claim and took up his home in his house. This the other squatters did not approve, so they persuaded him to go to a ball on Monday night in Davenport, and while he was absent they burnt the house and threw it into the river. This being the only means of getting rid of him according to "popular sovereignty."

Fatal Accident.

Mr. S. E. Hildreth, the founder of the town of Ozark, Jackson Co, Iowa, and owner of the flouring mills there, while engaged last Saturday in repairing his mill dam on the Maquoketa at that point, was instantly killed by the bank caving in on him. He leaves quite a family and a large circle of friends to mourn his loss. So says the Dubuque Express.

Disastrous Fire—Loss $25,000.

The large steam saw and planing mill in North La Crosse, belonging to E. K. & F. Butrick, took fire yesterday at 3 P. M., and burned to the ground. A blacksmith shop and a large quantity of lumber was also destroyed. The loss to the mill owners is over $25,000. No insurance. Our engine and hook and ladder companies were promptly on the ground, and did what service was possible.—La Crosse Democrat, 5th.

The Brig Dolphin, &c.

BOSTON, Oct. 6.—The brig Dolphin was announced to sail this afternoon or to-morrow morning for Norfolk, to join the Paraguay expedition fitting out at that port.

S. B. Comins, renominated by the Republicans for Congress from the 5th District of this State, has written a letter declining the nomination.

THE CITY.

Another fact for Advertisers.

The circulation of the WEEKLY PRESS AND TRIBUNE has gone up to Twenty Thousand, and the cry is "still they come." No paper in the whole West approaches this circulation.

☞ Messrs. R. T. Thomas & Co. Produce and Commission Merchants, at No. 29 North Dearborn street, are down in our books for a liberal donation of New York Carter potatoes, the eating whereof makes us fairly mealy-mouthed.

RETURNED.—We are happy to meet again our old friend Dr. David Rutter, who has returned after a year's absence in Philadelphia, the field of his former labors. Whilst absent his time has been very constantly occupied by hospital observation and professional work with his brethren.

CORRECTION.—A day or two since an article appeared in our columns without having received the notice or revision of either of the responsible editors of the PRESS AND TRIBUNE, endorsing the Waugonsha Insurance Company of this city, an article we desire to retract, and leave the Company to stand upon its own merits with our community. We have no endorsement to express for the Company or its managers, and were unwittingly placed in a false position in the matter.

ATTEMPTED BURGLARY.—The house of Mr. P. Fanning, 251 Edina Place, was visited by some of the burglar fraternity on Tuesday morning, about half-past 2 o'clock; but fortunately, the rascals had only succeeded in taking from his pockets a memorandum book, containing blank checks and other papers connected with his business, when they were overheard by Mr. F. who called out to them, supposing it to be some of the household. They at once sprang out of the windows and escaped.

FIRE.—The alarm of fire, at half-past one o'clock yesterday morning, was occasioned by the partial burning of a two story frame building on West Randolph street, near the Market, owned by Mr. Briggs, of the Briggs House, and occupied by Daniel Schnell, as a lager beer saloon and dwelling house. The fire caught in the rear and burned about one half the building before it was stayed. Mr. Schnell's loss is $600, insured for $700 in the Peoria Fire and Marine Insurance Company. The origin of the fire is unknown.

CHICAGO MINISTRY AT LARGE.—The undersigned is grateful in being able to announce that a short vacation and the application of the "Movement Cure" have restored his health, impaired by long over-doing, and that he is again at his usual humble vocation. The calls are numerous from some of the best families in the State, for children of both sexes—more particularly for girls—from one to fourteen years of age.

A young German of excellent character and disposition, a good English, Latin, French and Greek scholar, twenty-one years of age, wants a situation as private tutor at a very low salary. Address W. H. Hadley, Chicago, P. O. Box 3158, or call at the office of M. L., Washington St., between Dearborn and Clark Streets. W. H. HADLEY.

NEW FIRM AT POLO, ILL.—We take pleasure in calling the attention of our country readers to the "Cheap Cash Store" of Messrs. Harris & Rogers, at Polo, Ill. The junior member of the firm, S. S. Rogers, Esq., was for some five years the confidential clerk and cashier of the DAILY PRESS, in which capacity he proved himself to be one of the best men with whom we ever had an intimate business connection. Always courteous to customers, energetic and correct in all all his business transactions, with integrity that was ever above the shadow of suspicion, he cannot fail of success. Most cordially do we commend him to the confidence of the business public, and specially to those among whom he has located.

HOMES WANTED.—Rev. W. C. Van Meter, of New York, will reach Chicago on Friday morning, about 7 o'clock, with sixty children and will proceed at once to Olivet Church, corner of Wabash avenue and Twelfth street. The party consists mostly of boys of ages varying from 9 to 13 years, with three or four babies from 6 months to 2 years. Citizens willing to provide places of temporary accommodation are requested to be at the church by 8 o'clock on Friday morning, or leave their names with H. M. Thompson, 45 South Water street.

Mr. Van Meter will be at the Matteson House on Friday, and all desirous of contributing to this mission or providing permanent homes for these little ones will have an opportunity.

The party will proceed on Saturday to Madison, Wis.

Grand Rally at Mechanics' Institute Hall.

REPUBLICANISM WEATHER-PROOF.

Speeches by Hon. F. Blair, Senator Doolittle, and Hon. Cassius M. Clay.

MISSOURI, WISCONSIN, KENTUCKY.

Last evening had been looked forward to by our Republicans with eagerness, as the occasion promised and coveted of listening to the gallant champion of Free Labor in Missouri. As the afternoon of yesterday waned, the clouds that had lowered and discharged their burden in the rainfall of the morning, gathered again, lending a darker shade to nightfall and visiting us with a succession of violent showers, which, added to the previous condition of the streets, bid fair to disappoint the anticipations for the evening.

Had the weather manifestations been otherwise and the evening only tolerably fair, probably no hall in the city could have comfortably accommodated the gathering. As it was, the result evinced that Republicanism is, to use the homely phrase, "neither sugar nor salt that it can melt away," and that the friends of freedom are not to be deterred by any meteorological demonstration whatever, and a little later than the hour appointed saw the Hall well filled with a gathering of at least twelve hundred. How well those who braved the condition of things without, were repaid by the evening and what it furnished, none that were there will soon forget.

On Mr. Blair's introduction to the audience by Hon. I. N. Arnold, he was greeted with round after round of hearty applause. The people, unable to content themselves with so tame a demonstration, broke out in spontaneous cheers, which were given with a will. After silence was restored, the distinguished speaker proceeded in a calm, logical and forcible manner, to discuss the matters now uppermost in the minds of the people. He traced the history of the Anti-Slavery movement in this country from its inception in the action of the Revolutionary Fathers, down to the present time, detailed the circumstances of Mr. Calhoun's counter-revolution, inaugurated in 1847, described the effect of his heresy upon the creed and practice of the Democratic party; went over the circumstances attending the introduction of the Kansas Nebraska bill—a measure that Mr. Douglas was compelled to embrace by the threats of that red-handed Dave Atchison, for the avowed purpose of putting slavery in all the Territories; glanced at the history of Kansas and the disorders, insults and outrages to which Mr. Douglas' fatal measure gave rise; examined the effect of the Dred Scott decision upon the political states of the Free States as well as the Territories; and concluded by recounting the efforts of the emancipationists in Missouri and an explanation of their position and prospects. During the whole of his speech, portions of which were specially devoted to Mr. Douglas, he was loudly applauded and occasionally rapturously cheered. His denunciation of the Illinois Senator and of the dough-faces of the North, was telling and savage. His effort abounded in sharp and hard hits, eloquent passages, and frequent fierce denunciations,—all maintaining the high reputation which had preceded him in this city and throughout the Northwest. It was probably one of the most effective speeches which will be heard during this campaign; and if it does not open the eyes and arouse the feelings of the Douglasites who were gathered there to listen, truth and eloquence for them have lost their power. Though the Republicans of the North do not agree with Mr. Blair in ignoring the moral and religious aspects of the Slavery question, and basing all Anti-Slavery movement on the superior claims of the white race, they will thank him for his frank avowals, and will not quarrel with him because he seeks the attainment of the end that they would compass by the use of all the influences that can be commanded for the triumph of the great cause.

Senator Doolittle, of Wisconsin, succeeded Mr. Blair, and furthermore succeeded in one of the happiest and most telling speeches we have listened to during the present campaign. Our limits will not allow us to attempt even in outline to do justice to his points made against the Administration and Douglas, which he compared, in its relation of servility to slavery, to a snake, he had once seen, with two heads. In the case of Democracy, there is a Buchanan head and a Douglas head, but the same body and tail drags behind.

As Mr. Doolittle was drawing near the close of his speech, Hon. Cassius M. Clay entered the hall, accompanied by several members of the Republican Committee, and at the earliest hint of his presence the entire audience rose en masse, and amid a perfect whirlwind of applause, expressed their welcome.

Nor were they content with one demonstration, another and another followed, as the distinguished gentleman ascended the platform. When silence ensued, Senator Doolittle was urged to proceed by loud cries of "Go on," "go on," and he completed his speech in the same happy manner as at its outset.

Mr. Clay's audience had already evinced their disposition at his entrance into the hall, and when he came forward to the front of the rostrum he was again greeted with nine cheers, given with a will.

We wish we could give Mr. Clay's remarks in full. They were brief from the lateness of the hour, and from his own fatigue in recent exertions in the good cause, but the words alone if presented would not be half, and that other half would be lost with the living presence of the speaker, to which no report can do justice. He commenced by protesting as an "agriculturist" on his way to an agricultural gathering (the Wisconsin State Fair at Madison) against the treatment to which politicians had subjected him. They had sent him here and there, and he had spoken here and there, and he wanted to know "What was the use?"

He reviewed briefly, and in a few telling hits and touches, the history of the free labor movement, and kept his audience convulsed with laughter by his humorous and quaint manner.

The encouragements held out by Mr. Clay, that it will not be long before he gives an evening to a Chicago audience, in a discussion of the great questions of the campaign in our State, are another reason, were one needed, why we do not attempt more fully a sketch of his brief remarks of last evening.

The meeting was a glorious one, the most telling in its numbers, the weather considered, and in its interest, of the campaign thus far. The speakers from our neighboring sister States severally assured our Republicans of the interest with which the friends of Freedom in Kentucky, Missouri and Wisconsin are watching the progress of the battle in the Prairie State, and the enthusiasm manifested by their audience was a happy token of how earnestly that battle is being waged.

THE STATE STREET HORSE RAILROAD.—We are glad to be able to report progress in this important public enterprise. Messrs. Parmalee, Fuller and Bigelow have not been idle, and the matter stands in a favorable and promising condition.

Contracts have been made with the Wyandot Mills at Detroit for the iron, which is now in a state of forwardness, and will be in this city by November first. Four of their best horse cars are now on their way to this city from the well known manufactory of Messrs. Eaton & Gilbert, Troy, N. Y., and twelve others are to be forthwith built in this city.

It is some ten days or more since the completion of the State street improvement in filling, curbing and paving, and Mr. DeGolyer has given an excellent job on this fine thoroughfare. No ground will be broken by the Horse Railroad Company until their iron is on the spot, and then the trackers will make all possible progress.

MINSTREL ROBBED.—A large package of clothing, consisting of dresses, coats, scarfs, shoes, skirts, a tamborine, wig, &c., being the complete theatrical, "kit," of Charles Brooks, a performer at the Hiawatha saloon, was stolen on Tuesday night from the dock of the Milwaukee boat. Mr. Brooks was about to leave for Milwaukee, and laid his package down to converse with a man. When he returned for it, it was gone.

The cow was stolen from an open lot near Dr. Egan's dairy at Hyde Park. Apply to the Captain of Police.

WELL DONE, A LIVE BURGLAR "WINGED."—After what our community have experienced from the invasions of burglars, it is gratifying to know and with pleasure we announce that a live member of the predatory fraternity, and though a small specimen, a very creditable one, has, by the gallantry of James Duffy, Esq., of the firm of D. W. Corbin & Co., been "winged" by a well directed shot and taken in the act, indeed, after he had effected an entrance into the store of the firm, extensive dealers in tobacco and cigars, No. 59, South Clark Street.

Three times within the past week or two the store has been entered through a rear window, and money and cigars taken, and with the determination to do something to interfere with what somebody was evidently acquiring as a habit, Mr. Duffy took up his lodgings for several nights past upon a buffalo skin beneath the desk, on he watch and prepared for burglars.

Night before last Mr. D. took his post as usual and about one o'clock heard a movement as of some one among the boxes and barrels in the area, and shortly after work was apparently commenced upon the shutters of one of the windows, though with caution.

Mr. Duffy crept from his lair to the opposite side of the store, and for an hour stood guard with his revolver, awaiting the tardy success of the person without, in opening the shutters.

It was achieved, however, and the burglar commenced cutting a pane of glass, removing which, he cautiously crept through and stood within the store. He cautiously progressed a few paces into the room, when Mr. Duffy, from his position, then in the fellow's rear, fired with the best aim he could do in the dark.

All was silent for a few seconds, and Mr. D. not knowing what the fellow might contemplate, fired again, and this time over the fellow's head.

He cocked his pistol for the third fire, when a rather juvenile voice called out, "Don't shoot again." Mr. Duffy sprang out and seized him, and attracted by the pistol shots, a number of the inmates of the building were immediately on the spot, and among them two physicians, Drs. Max Myers and Collins.

The burglar proved to be a boy of 16, named Michael Mullen, who has ostensibly made a living as a newsboy, but who has chiefly maintained himself by burglaries of the smaller classes and similar knaveries.

The ball, it was found at the first fire, struck him on the back at such an angle that entering near the left shoulder blade it came out at the left shoulder, making a severe but not dangerous wound.

Mullen is one of a gang of like young reprobates, who it is believed have been the authors of most, if not the larger share of the more recent burglaries, to some of which he has confessed.

The wound was dressed and the lad taken to the armory. The case will be examined in a few days.

Mullen and three other boys were arrested within the present week by City Marshal Rehm on suspicion of burglary, and discharged for want of evidence on Tuesday last.

CHICAGO THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.—Among the various enterprises for theological education to be located in or near this city, the first located in the city that has actually been placed in working order, and is now in operation, is the Chicago Theological Seminary, under Congregational auspices, which was opened yesterday afternoon at 2 P. M., in the Lecture Room of the First Congregational Church, Rev. W. W. Patton's, on Green street, in the West Division.

Professors Haven and Bartlett, and several clergymen of this city were present.

Over thirty students have made application for admission, though only about half of that number have arrived as yet. Examination of students will take place at 2 P. M. to-day, in the same place, for admission to the junior and senior classes.

The directors and friends of the seminary hold a convention in this city on the 20th and 21st inst., during which the inaugural address of the Professors will be delivered.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

Further Particulars of the Destruction of the New York Crystal Palace.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—The destruction of the Crystal Palace with its contents, yesterday, was complete. So rapidly did the flames spread, that in less than twenty-five minutes from the commencement of the fire, the immense dome fell. Nothing was saved excepting one hose carriage, a hook and ladder carriage, and some half a dozen articles of trifling value.

The fire originated, as stated last night, in the lumber room, and was no doubt the work of an incendiary.

There were in the building at the time some two thousand people, principally women and children. The consternation among these was fearful. Many were knocked down and trampled, but none were seriously injured, excepting one man who was killed.

The loss is variously estimated at from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000. The Palace originally cost $800,000. One estimate makes the worth of the articles on exhibition about $500,000. Three fire engines belonging to the city, and valued at from $2,000 to 3,000 each, were destroyed, and two of them had been placed in the building but a few hours before the fire commenced.

There were nearly 4,000 contributors to the Exhibition, some of whose losses were quite large. The American Institute, under whose auspices the Fair was held, lose $10,000. There was among the losses 16 engines valued at $30,000; 40 pianos, including 12 of Chickering's, $12,000; turning lathes, $16,000; sewing machines, $6,000; knitting machines, $7,000; daguerreotype department, $6,000; plows, $10,000; vehicles of different kinds, $10,000; watch, clock and jewelry department, loss very heavy; fur department contained a large quantity of very valuable goods, the loss is heavy; three large finished calliopes, $16,000; machines of various descriptions, $75,000; picture gallery, $10,000; statuary, $25,000; furniture and housekeeping articles, $20,000; jewelry, diamonds and watches $30,000; stoves, furniture, &c., $6,000; steam and coloric engines, $13,000; wearing apparel $25,000; motive power and machinery belonging to the Institute, $15,000.

One account states that Robert Rait, Jeweller, lost a case of diamonds valued at $30,000. Among the works of Art lost were Marochetti's statue of Washington, valued at $15,000, Kiss's Amazon, $10,000, Thorwaldson's Saviour and Apostles, Caveri's colossal marble statue of Daniel Webster; colossal group, man struggling with bear; group of the Lovers going to a well, and many other pieces, including life-size busts of O'Connell, Moore, Father Mathew, Washington, &c.

The only articles known to be saved, in addition to the hose carriage and ladder truck, were one case of patent pistols, belonging to a Philadelphia exhibitor, a case of prize medals belonging to the institution valued at $8,000, a case of jewelry valued at $8,000, belonging to Robert Rait.

No doubt the fire was the work of and incendiary. A strong smell of camphene was detected in the building where the fire commenced. Previous to the fire a boy was seen dodging about between the Palace door on 42d street and a liquor shop opposite, and just before the alarm was given, three boys were seen hurrying away from the 42d street entrance, and running at a rapid rate down the street. The supposition is that rags or other materials were saturated with camphene, lighted, and thrown into the lumber room.

There is nothing left standing of the Palace but the iron towers at the angles, and a small portion of the iron sides. Everything combustible about the building and contents is reduced to ashes.

The iron parts of the machinery and other articles on exhibition, together with the framework of the building, are one undistinguishable mass. The glass is fused into large masses.

The report that one man was killed is untrue. There was no loss of life whatever and no severe injury to any one.

The Police and Managers of the Institute are busy investigating the origin of the disaster.

The insurance of $50,000 on the Crystal Palace was effected to cover losses of foreign exhibitors. The American watches exhibited by Appleton, Tracy & Co., of Waltham were saved by Mr. Smith, who had them in charge.

The machine and Iron Foundry of C. Werner, of Charleston, S. C., was burnt on Saturday morning, together with its contents. Insured $30,000, which will not cover the loss.

Progress of the Buchanan Element in Illinois.

When the bitter personal quarrel between Douglas and Buchanan broke out, the former, after having committed himself by emasculating the Toombs bill, by his Springfield speech of 1857, by his journal, the Chicago Times, and by his general policy on the Kansas question, to the very course which the President adopted for the settlement of the imbroglio, declared war against the latter and took issue with him on the Lecompton bill, at least nine-tenths of the Bogus Democracy of Illinois went off with their old leader. Mr. Douglas was so much encouraged by the extent of the detection of which he was the cause, that he imagined that he could continue to occupy a position of hostility to the Administration and maintain not only his reputation with the Democracy of the Union, but his position as the head and dictator of the party in this State. He was arrogant and overbearing in view of his presumptive strength, and, in the Senate and out of it, fulminated his anathemas against all who dared oppose. His reception in Chicago, arranged by his followers by an immense outlay of money and wind, added to his gigantic self-importance; and when he started off on his electioneering tour, accompanied by his hired scribblers, his brass cannon, two gunners with cavalry swords and red shirts, his magazine and powder monkey and his box of flags, little and big, to be displayed as occasion would warrant, he supposed that his procession would be a continued triumph, that the Republicans would offer no opposition, and that the few Buchaneers would flee at his approach or remain only to be trodden in the dirt by the pet of the enthusiastic thousands who thronged about him. But giants even are sometimes doomed to disappointments. From the day that Mr. Douglas pronounced his Tremont House harangue, down to the present moment, the Buchanan element, though avowedly nursed by Buchanan himself, has been constantly on the increase. The maledictions showered upon the heads of the leaders, the personal detraction and the wretched misrepresentation to which they have submitted, have multiplied their friends, and to-day there is little doubt that in many of the counties of the State where, at the outset of the fight, no man dared espouse the President's cause, a majority of the Democratic party can be rallied to his support, and everywhere they are hopeful, enthusiastic and defiant. We certainly do not boast on this result. It does not accord with our wishes or hopes; but, as faithful chroniclers of the events of the day, we are bound to record the fact, and to attribute to Mr. Douglas' arrogance and causeless abuse the exaltation of that element which is more dangerous and despotic than any other known in the political history of the Republic. For whatever of Buchaneerism there is now in Illinois, the Senator is responsible. His shuffling, dodging and misrepresentation, his falsification of the true issues, his concessions to Republicans on one day, his abuse of his oldest friends on the next, and his general inconsistency and needless prevarication, have done no less to arouse mutinies in his own camp than to exasperate the Republicans by whom he will shortly be overwhelmed.

The Buchaneers are organizing in all quarters of the State, and nominating local tickets—in many of the Democratic strongholds with flattering prospects of success. They are putting forward their ablest men, sending into the field their most persuasive shriekers, and are doing, generally, the work of the campaign with as much earnestness as if they were confident that exertion would ensure their triumph. Whatever the result now, there can be no doubt that upon Mr. Douglas' defeat, the Buchaneers will find none to dispute their claim to be considered "the Democracy"; and in all future contests, the Republicans will be compelled to contend against them, not with the squads who, when their master falls will be widely dispersed. It is well; because though there may be no essential difference, to Republicans, between the principles held and the policy avowed by Douglas and the President respectively, we shall gain this advantage of hereafter meeting an enemy that is honest enough to avow, plainly and unequivocally, the despotism which it is the object of all sham Democrats—Buchaneers and Douglas men alike—to establish.

A Terrible Row in the Camp.

The Douglas men of the Jo Daviess Senatorial district, in looking about them for a candidate to be beaten, could find no one whose prospects of success were as flattering as those of F. A. Strockey, late of Galena, but more lately of Minnesota. They persuaded him to return to the diggings, and as he is connected with the public works as a contractor, is a clever fellow, and can speak German after the Pennsylvania method, they pitched upon him as their man. His influence upon the German vote was specially insisted upon as the assurance of his success in the great struggle; and since the campaign commenced some of his friends have imagined that they believed that Strockey had something more than the ghost of a chance. But what a mistake! This man, who was to be put on the track to make an inroad upon the Germans in the Republican ranks, whose hopes of election were based on his influence with adopted citizens, particularly with those of German birth, now proves to be a Know Nothing of the darkest dye. He was, and continued to be as long as that organization existed, a member of Lodge No. 2 of Galena; and the proofs of his zeal in the cause that he then espoused, of his initiation and of all the circumstances connected with his "Dark Lantern" career, are carefully preserved. The enunciation of these facts in the German meeting at Galena, on Saturday last, has so far changed Mr. Strockey's prospects, that he will probably be withdrawn from the fight, and suffered to go back to his contract in another State. He has not a tithe of the ability to make a respectable Senator, and as his supposed popularity was all that made him available, that being destroyed, the men who are using him can suffer him to go. Our German friends over there say that they do not mind voting for an American who has abjured; but that they cannot and will not forgive the deceit which the Douglas leaders have practiced, in thrusting upon them as a friend a Hindoo who has never recanted. The money raised here to promote Mr. Strockey's success has been wasted.

The Canvass in Iowa—Leffingwell Succumbed to the Administration.

When the canvass opened in Iowa, Leffingwell was an out and out Douglas man, shrieking to such a degree in the Little Giant's vein when he made his first speech at Dubuque that Senator Jones and other Buchanan men left the stand in high dudgeon. Lately, however, he has been shrieking for the Administration with equal vigor. The reason of this wheel-about, as explained by the Davenport Gazette, was a well-grounded fear that his defeat would be rendered certain by the active opposition of the Nationals if he persisted in his course. Threats to this effect were distinctly made. He was summoned to Dubuque—had a conference with the Administration clique—recanted his heresies, and fully pledged himself to stick by the Buchanan platform hereafter. It would be most fortunate for Mr. Douglas if he could wipe out his "treason" with equal facility.

Senator Trumbull at Freeport.

[Correspondence of the Press and Tribune.]

FREEPORT, Oct. 4, 1858.

Senator Trumbull addressed the people of Stephenson County here to-day, and made one of the most effective speeches of the campaign.

The Senator said that the issue now before the people comprehended much more than the single question of the freedom or slavery of Kansas. It involved the issue of slavery in all the Territories, aye, and in all the States. The next, and naturally succeeding step, after the Dred Scott decision, will be to establish slavery by force of the federal constitution in Illinois. If, by virtue of the right of property in slaves, conceded by the federal constitution, slavery must go into the Territories, why should it not go into the free States? And the constitution and government of a State, being subject to the federal constitution, cannot nullify it—cannot resist slavery. This is whither the so-called Democracy is leading.

In 1854 the policy of our government was changed. It had been its policy to encourage freedom and free labor. Then that wise policy was reversed. Both the Whig and the Democratic parties were annihilated. The pro-slavery party appropriated the name, but had not the spirit of Democracy. A new and strange test of Democracy was introduced. All who would support the Nebraska bill were good Democrats dyed in the wool. And of those good Democrats under the new test, many of the foremost had been life-long opponents of Democracy. Toombs of Georgia, one of the best administration men, was an old Whig; Jones of Tennessee, always a Whig, who was elected Governor of his State in opposition to Col. Polk, is now preaching Democracy to the people of Illinois. [Question from the crowd—Would you vote to restore the Missouri Compromise?] The Missouri Compromise cannot be restored. One half of it was received by the South and cannot be taken back. I cannot vote Missouri out of the Union and then restore the Compromise, and vote her into the Union again under it. But I would vote to re-enact that part of the Missouri Compromise which prohibits slavery in the Territories. [Applause.] The Republican party occupies the ground so long held by the true Democratic party, so long the policy of our government from the beginning, and under which was attained all our national greatness and prosperity.

Judge Douglas calls us "woolly-heads" and "amalgamationists." The boot is on the other leg. There are more mulattoes in Virginia, that good Democratic State, than in all the Northern States. We are striving to keep negroes out of the new States. There can be no amalgamation if there are no negroes there. Judge Douglas and the Democrats want to extend slavery, and amalgamation is the result of their doctrine, not ours.

They call us "negro-worshippers," but our policy will prevent slavery from entering the new States, and there will be no negroes there to worship. We cannot interfere with slavery in the States where it exists. I propose no such doctrine; but we can keep it out of the new States by keeping it out of the Territories. [Question from the crowd—Would you vote to admit a new State with a slave constitution if the inhabitants desired it?] I will decide that question when it is presented, but under our policy I think it can never arise. You might as well ask me whether, if the people of Illinois were to change the constitution and adopt slavery, I would submit to it. Adopt our policy and in my opinion the new States will not desire slavery, and that question will not be presented. The Democratic party falsely calls itself the white man's party. When our own fellow-citizens of Illinois were plundered and robbed on the Mississippi River, the Democratic government could not afford them any aid or redress, but when a poor negro escaped from slavery, was captured in a northern State, the whole power of the United States army and navy could be called into requisition to restore him to his master.

The Senator then reviewed the Cincinnati Platform of the Democratic party, and showed that they had falsified their professions in every point. Maintaining freedom of speech and freedom of the press, they are the only party who have interfered with either. In good Democratic Southern States, no Republican is allowed freedom of speech. The great constitutional provision guaranteed to all, is there set aside. If a newspaper is printed there devoted to freedom and free labor, its presses are destroyed, and its issue stopped.

Professing economy, they have administered the Government in the most recklessly extravagant manner. The yearly expenditures have doubled in seven years, and they have the face to talk of economy. The Senator here reverted to the statistics heretofore published, sustaining his charges by the official figures.

Professing State rights, without nullification, yet the Douglas Democracy hold the right of a Territorial Legislature to nullify the Federal Constitution, by legislating slavery out of a Territory, while the United States Constitution establishes and protects it therein. That is Dred Scott Popular Sovereignty.

Advocating a specie currency, the Administration, before the Christmas holidays of last session of Congress, asked for twenty millions of shinplasters to rescue the Government from bankruptcy, and a Democratic Congress voted the twenty millions. After the holidays, they asked for twenty millions more, and they got it. And this was in time of peace.

Senator Trumbull then, by documentary proof, established his charges against Douglas in regard to the alteration of the Toombs bill beyond the shadow of doubt. He read a portion of the original bill introduced by Toombs with the clause submitting certain propositions to be ratified by the people at an election to be held for the adoption of the Constitution. Now, how could they be ratified by the people at an election held for the adoption of the Constitution, if no such election was to be held? In the bill, as reported back from the Committee on Territories by Judge Douglas, that clause was stricken out.

Senator Trumbull then read from Toombs' own speech, as reported in the Congressional Globe, his (Toombs') explanation of how that clause got into the original bill. It got there by accident. The first twelve clauses of the bill he wrote himself, while the remainder, relating to the land ordinance, &c., he clipped from a printed act. Toombs says that he did not observe that the clause submitting the Constitution to the people was in the bill—that his attention was called to it afterwards, and in committee it was stricken out at his suggestion. And Judge Douglas tells us in one of his speeches that Senator Toombs and himself amended the bill in Committee and made some alterations, and that Douglas reported back the bill with that submission clause stricken out, and thus Douglas then tried to strangle and kill this child, "Popular Sovereignty," for which he now professes so much fondness.

Senator Trumbull remarked that an excuse was offered for the repeal of the Missouri Compromise; that the Compromise of 1850 had abrogated it, but he showed, and read from the statute to prove that the Missouri Compromise, or that part in reference to the prohibition of slavery north of the line of 36 deg. 30 min., was especially recognized, and re enacted by the Compromise bill of 1850. What effrontery is it, then for any man or any party to assert that an act of Congress is abrogated by another act which especially maintains and reaffirms it.

But, said Senator Trumbull, my colleague, who was opposed to Henry Clay in his life-time is now dragging up his bones to fatten upon them. In my opinion, if Henry Clay had lived, instead of appeals to him to sustain the Nebraska bill, the Missouri Compromise would never have been repealed.

The Senator said it was true, he voted against the admission of Oregon as a free State, because he thought she was not prepared to become a State at that time. He never said that he would vote to admit a free State, unless he thought it was entitled to become a State. He thought that as it required 93,000 people to send a member to Congress from Illinois, it was no more than just and fair that any new State should have that population before sending a member to Congress. But he should be governed by the circumstances of the case. He voted for the admission of Kansas under the Topeka Constitution because he thought the interests of the people and of the whole country required it. He saw a prospect of civil war in Kansas, to extend throughout the Union, and he thought the best way to avert it was to admit Kansas as a State and let true popular sovereignty settle her troubles. If affairs had been in the same situation in Oregon, he would have voted to admit Oregon as a State notwithstanding she had presented no proper evidence of her population.

Senator Trumbull was interrupted by questions on one or two occasions, but so effectually did he answer them that there was no need to ask the same question twice. In no position does our noble Senator show his surpassing abilities as a public speaker in a more brilliant light than when he is interrupted by his opponents. His prompt, ready answers and shrewd retort called forth the most hearty applause.

I send you but an imperfect sketch of Senator Trumbull's speech. It was eagerly listened to by a large assemblage of persons from the surrounding country, and its effects will tell at our ballot boxes. **

Letter from Indiana.

Editors Press and Tribune:

LAPORTE, Ind., Oct. 5th, 1858.

This has been a proud day for the Republicans of Laporte. Hon. Schuyler Colfax has just concluded a speech of over two hours in length, which is said to be one of the ablest ever delivered in this county.

There were about three thousand persons present, who listened with close attention, while he discussed the great political issues of the day. His summing up of the reasons for opposing the extension of slavery over territory now free, was one of the most thrillingly eloquent statements to which we ever listened. We heard one old Democrat say, "Colfax has made one hundred votes by that speech." The contest will be a close one, and every Republican will need to work earnestly and continually until election. The importation of voters has commenced in good earnest, and if our election was to be put off until next spring, your Relief Society would have a number less Irish families to support during the coming winter. They are ostensibly to work on the Railroad, but in reality to vote the "Dimocratic" ticket next week. B.

☞ The majority for Foster (Republican) in the Sixth District of Maine, is officially ascertained to be 108. French's majority in the Third District is 58.

Dupage County Fair as seen by a Cit.

Editors Press and Tribune:

In these days, when by general consent we substitute County Fairs for general musters, in order to give vent for pumkin pies, new cider, and youthful as well as grown folks' glee, a considerable portion of your type yard is given for their heralding. But no report has yet been seen of the truly charming affair at Wheaton last week.

Dupage county being within their circle beyond which speculations in agricultural lands have been rife of late years, and without that of city suburban strife, is no less worthy of a passing notice.

Having armed ourselves—Tennessee friend and subscriber—with seventy-five cent tickets, we proceeded to the "low back car," and there with P. and L. in hand awaited the signal for departure of the morning train of Sept. 29.

After due deliberation the animal began to fume and snort, the drays, etc., to clear the track, the bridge to swing to, and the cars to move. Soon we were on our wending way, rejoicing in the balmy prairie air, and the sunlight autumnal fair. Scarcely had we time to con over the morning news, ere the the gentlemanly conductor, leaving tickets unpunctured, announced Wheaton, when with the gathered group we alighted at the beautiful gravel mound ville. A ten cent investment of pasteboard took us to the inclosure, where a further outlay of a quarter gained us an entrance thereto. To say that we were disappointed to find sweet strains coming from a country band of music, to see the genial countenances of thrifty farmers, their wives, sons and daughters, would not convey the state of our feelings; nothing short of the word charmed would express our meaning, as we strode over the green plot up towards the stand, where stood the judges, speaker and the band. Egad! what music, what decisions and what spouting came therefrom; what noise of beast and man. The jackass brayed, the steed neighed, the ox lowed, and the lamb bleated, the wind mill ran a race with the fleetest steeds, and many were the sights that there we saw. The game fowls nestled in their slatted coop; the ladies gathered in many a group; the gents' in a familiar way, let the colts around them play; the fast horse was there before the two-wheeled gig, all ribboned off in a gala rig, ready to win the golden prize, to be awarded by the judges wise; the gingerbread was devoured too; and one thing, no liquor flew into the brain of any; as far as known by your subscriber, all were true to the teetotal rules of strictest blue. The ladies rode the stately nag, the creeping pony and the wildest gray, black, bob and roany. It was there said if a man was so unfortunate as to own a poor horse, he was sure to get a premium. Sure it was that the one that came in last got the highest award, probably to teach the ladies to ride the proper mode.

The time whiled away rapidly, and at eve a ride with a farmer to his home, a good supper, bed and rest, constituted the balance of entertainment for that day and night, save relieving a toad from the hungry maw of a striped snake at the door of the farm-house, to relieve us of our troubled slumbers.

The next morning looked hazy; but to the grounds we went. Saw the cattle exhibited, the machinery tested, the discourse delivered from a full-breasted Dominie; who told us of the days of yore; how they celebrated their fetes from the time of Noah down to that of the present day; all was listened to with the profoundest awe, save by the bellowing herd. Then came the gents who, at the word, let go their steeds around the track—hallooing "G'lang"—and letting crack the whip around the unconscious brutes, as it all depended on their gaits.

Conjointly we, as it partaking of the spirit, left for the cars, and came home fully satisfied with the fun of two days spent out of town.

BROWN.

Letter from Cass County.

[Correspondence of the Press and Tribune.]

BEARDSTOWN, Ill., Oct. 4, 1858.

Our town and county have been more agitated by politics this fall than ever before known. The Republican principles are extending very fast. The old line Whigs of this county, as a general thing, all go for Lincoln, besides a great many of the old line Democrats, such as supported Jackson in his time, but cannot go Stephen A. Douglas, and these are by no means few. The speaking here of Douglas and Lincoln in August last showed the people what Douglas really was. I think it was the first time he ever spoke in this place, and the only way we could judge of his speeches was by the Democratic printed versions of them, with which he took good care we should be well supplied. Douglas undoubtedly lost votes by his speech here, while Lincoln gained all that Douglas lost, and all that had not decided which way they should go; among the latter were many who were Fillmore men in 1856, but they nearly all support Lincoln now. James W. Judy is the candidate for Representative for the counties of Cass and Menard, and we confidently expect to see him elected by a considerable majority. He is one of the most popular men in this part of the country, and will carry all of the old line Whigs. A large and enthusiastic meeting was addressed by W. Ketchum a short time since on the true principles of Republicanism. The Democrats dispatched a messenger for a Democratic lawyer to come and answer him. He came and listened for a few minutes and then left. He was afraid to open his mouth, well knowing his abilities were not such as to enable him to sustain anything like an argument on the side of Douglas.

We are to have a grand Musical Convention here this week. It commences to-day and continues for four days. Good singers from all parts of the State are expected, and a general good time is anticipated by all.

Mr. James Shaw will deliver a Republican speech here, at the Court House, on to-morrow evening, the 5th. Mr. S. is a nephew of our P. M. (who thinks Douglas is the only man living who ought to go to the Senate) and the only Republican out of a large family of Democrats; but he hopes to bring them all over in due time. In 1859 Beardstown went largely Democratic, in fact, Fremont only got 130 votes; but this fall the tables will be turned and the Douglas ticket will get about as many votes as Fremont did in 1856. Wait until next November and see if I am not right. Yours truly, TAHOE.

Political Discussion at Morris.

[Correspondence of the Press and Tribune.]

MORRIS, Ills., Oct. 4, 1858.

We had quite an interesting political discussion here on Saturday night last, in which the disputants were Dr. D. Le Roy, on the part of the Buchanan Democracy, and J. W. Newport, Esq., in defence of Republican principles. I would not ask for a space in your columns, were it not that there will be forwarded to that delectable sheet, the Herald, a garbled and partial account of the meeting.

The Dr., as you know, is the Buchanan candidate for Congress, selected, not on account of his ability, or high moral worth, but for his unblushing effrontery and reckless demagogism, in which he boas's himself unexcelled even by that prince of demagogues, Stephen A. Douglas. His speech was an unsavory rehash of the Dred Scott decision, as expounded by Hoyne and Carpenter—puerile attempts to prove the Republicans slavery propagandists, because they voted for Dunn's bill—silly tirade against the Free State men of Kansas, and futile attempts to harmonize Buchanan despotism and Jefferson Democracy; of course, laudation of Buchanan, and bold assumptions supported only by the Dr.'s ipse dixit, which, by the way, is about as near par in Grundy as Atlantic Cable stock in London.

Mr. Newport, in reply, ably refuted every position assumed by the Dr., showing exclusively how far the modern Democrats had strayed from the path indicated by Jefferson and Madison, and that in the platform of the Republican party were incorporated the principles and policy upon which our Government was established. He exposed the glaring inconsistencies of the present Administration, and closed with an eloquent appeal to every patriot to rescue our vast territories from the blighting curse of slavery.

In this discussion Mr. Newport was by common consent declared the victor; the Dr.'s own friends yielding the palm. Whether owing to a "sore throat," under which the Dr. has been laboring ever since he had the temerity to cross lances with Mr. Lovejoy, who, by the way, applied a caustic worse than lunar, or whether his tongue, perhaps more honest than his head, refused to enunciate the unblushing falsehoods his brain was originating, I cannot say; but he certainly did injustice to his enviable reputation as a political demagogue. Grundy County will give the sham Democracy in November a castigation from which they will never recover.

JUSTICE.

A Republican Mass Meeting in Upper Egypt.

Editors Press and Tribune:

MARSHALL, Clark Co., Ill., Oct. 4, 1858.

Gentlemen, you will please announce to your numerous readers that the Republicans of old Clark are making preparations to have one of the tallest demonstrations at Marshall on the 21st of October that the denizens of Upper Egypt have ever witnessed. Judge Trumbull will be here (by appointment, and Hon. Henry S. Lane, of Indiana, and other eminent speakers have been invited and are expected. Several bands of music will be in attendance, and everything necessary to make it a time long to be remembered in old Clark.

The good cause is gaining ground here, and we feel full of hope that our county, although long in the power of the minions of the slave-driver, will be redeemed this fall, and roll up a majority for Lincoln, Oglesby and the State ticket. EGYPT.

Abs uno disce omnes.

Editors Press and Tribune:

In the account of the meeting of Mr. Douglas at Hennepin, which is found in the Times of Oct. 1st, speaking of the National Democrats, is the following:

Lovejoy was here, and intended to speak, but after an interview with them, concluded that he had better postpone his speech, and busied himself in superintending the erection of the stand, and in drawing Republicans over to their meeting who were listening to Douglas and Dickey.

Mr. Lovejoy was no nearer Hennepin that day than his house at Princeton, and left the latter place at noon, on the cars, for Iroquois County, where he spoke on the 29th of Sept. Is it necessary or allowable to make statements so absolutely untrue? Will the Times copy.

BUREAU.

Foreign Correspondence.

Frankfurt—Its Notabilities, Population, Architecture, Customs, Amusements, and Art.

COBLENZ, Sept. 1st, 1858.

A few days since I left Heidelberg to spend the vacation in the most beautiful and interesting part of Germany. As Frankfurt is the first city of considerable importance on my route, I will make it the first object of your attention. Frankfurt is a Free City, has a population of seventy thousand souls, and is moreover the seat of the German Diet. It has ten square miles of territory, whose boundaries are marked by mediocre towers. Here the Emperors of Germany were crowned, and here was centered the power that held all Europe in sway. It is neutral ground, where friend and foe may meet under the same rights, and where the difficulties between contending nations are settled.

But above all Frankfurt is celebrated for its commerce. It is the entrepot of Central Europe, receiving the productions of every country in the world, and distributing them in France, Germany and Russia. The innumerable channels of commerce empty their wealth into its warehouses, and tradesmen from the neighboring lands come here to replenish their smaller stocks of goods. Frankfurt is to them what New York is to the Western merchants. Its business men are among the richest and most enterprising on the Continent. I need mention only the name of Rothschild to prove this statement. Here they were born, in the narrow Jew's street, and here they learned those business habits which enabled them to become the richest men in the world. Two hours' distance by the railway from Frankfurt (near Heidelberg) John Jacob Astor was born, a poor peasant lad, who, while young, went with the crowd of emigrants to seek his fortune in the wilds of America. So the Rothschilds rose from the dirtiest, most miserable part of Frankfurt, at a time when the Jews were laboring under the most tyran ical oppression, and by the never-failing influence of money, did much towards improving the condition of their countrymen. The advantages which this city enjoys, as a central point for commerce, attracted a great number of Jews, who converted all the narrow streets and alleys into money changers, pawn-brokers, rag-pedlars and clothiers' quarters. Here, as at Rome, they were locked up in their part of the city, separated by gates, at an early hour every night, and many tyrannical laws were enacted against them—laws under whose burden no people but the Hebrew could remain upright—and they were supported by the love of gain, which extinguished every other feeling or sentiment in their breasts. Among other oppressive laws was one which limited the number of marriages during the year to thirteen, and which existed until 1834. This unreasonable hatred is however gradually disappearing; the sons of Abraham are permitted to reside where they wish, and marry when they have a desire or an opportunity.

The Jews' Quarter retains still its ancient character. The houses are sufficiently irregular to drive an architect to madness; gables, crooked windows, low doorways, high peaked roofs and defunct chimneys, are heaped together in such a confused mass, that he would far more easily find his way out of a labyrinth than discover by what rules of architecture comfort, convenience or beauty had been assigned to those edifices. Some are of stone, others of brick, and not a few of wood, but all are dirty beyond comparison, rotten and decrepit through age, so that you wonder in passing how they could have existed so long, and why they do not sink beneath the load of filth, old clothes, deformed things, living and inanimate, with which they are filled. Children, some half grown, others in swaddling clothes like mariners ready to be embalmed, are in the passage and before the shops, around you and beneath you, announcing the fact of their existence by many unmistakable sings. Suspicious looking men, supposing that you have met with some misfortune and are too proud to confess it, inform you secretly that they are prepared to receive anything, from a horse to a tooth-brush; and occasionally you feel compensated for the vexations and foul atmosphere that you have endured by a glance from one of Abraham's daughters, the depth of whose eyes you would vainly explore, and whose smiles fairly drive away the vapors. Cunning tradesmen live here, who demand exorbitant prices for their wares, but are contented with half as much; rich men wear rags that they may more surely find the way to compassion, and all, like a community of spiders, play their parts well, on the watch for unfortunate flies that stray into their well prepared webs.

The modern part of the city, on the other hand, presents quite a different appearance. There merchant princes, who have toiled with perseverance up the hill to wealth, and finally retired from the busy scene of their labors, have built their palaces. The streets are clean and in excellent order, everything tells of luxury and elegance. The hotels are of the first class, the shops display a greater abundance and variety of the world's productions than many a larger city can boast of. One of the annual fairs is now held at Frankfurt. In the public squares temporary booths are erected to receive the articles to be exposed for sale. There they remain for several weeks, adding a new feature to the city. These fairs are not so important as those of England and America. One-fifth of the booths are pipe shops, and one-third toy-shops! The streets are crowded with strangers and country people, who take advantage of this opportunity to make purchases for the winter. An American circus and menagerie of humbugs are in full blast, attracting the curious and deceiving the innocent. Wonderful pictures of contests with wild bears and alligators, in the Barnum style, are hung up for public admiration, while the owner enumerates to a crowd of youth the virtues of a monkey, or relates his adventures at the North Pole.

Amidst the throng of Swiss, Bohemians and Tyrolese, I was surprised to see three lazzaroni from Naples, with their bag pipes and reeds. These fellows, who make a pilgrimage to Rome every year before Christmas in great numbers, to play before the Virgin's shrines, in imitation of the shepherds who went to Bethlehem, had wandered to the cold north. They knew no language but their own Neapolitan dialect, yet they persevered, and drove a profitable business among the hated Tedeschi. Every one stared at them, smiling at their queer gestures and outlandish attempts to produce harmonious sounds.

The buildings and monuments now claim our attention. The cathedral is remarkable only for its gothic architecture and high tower that has remained during nearly five centuries unfinished. The gallery of old painting and museum of natural history contain many interesting objects, which are to be seen rather than described. The Town House contains a collection of portraits of German Emperors, and the room in which they were chosen is now occupied by the Frankfurt Senate. There are two fine club houses in Frankfurt after the London style. The principal papers in Europe are taken—they have rooms for billiard and card-playing and dining halls. Every luxury is at hand, so that for a small sum (about thirty dollars) paid annually, you may enjoy your evenings as comfortably as at home. Nearly every large town in Germany has one or more clubs, where one may spend a leisure hour. Most of them have gardens for summer, and ball rooms in which concert or balls are given every fortnight.

A monument to Goethe stands in the Allee, a public promenade lined with trees. The statue is of bronze, a very noble figure, and on the pedestal are bas reliefs, the subjects of which are taken from his works. The poet was born in a neighboring street, only a few hundred yards from this spot. The house is like the other old houses, with high sharp roof, and the upper stories slightly projecting. His father's coat of arms still remains over the door. By a singular coincidence it bears the poetical device of three lyres, as if he had anticipated the renown that posterity had in store for him.

Not far from this monument stands another to Guttenburg, Faust and Schaeffer, the inventors of printing, also of bronze. John Gutenberg made the first attempt at printing in Strasburg (about 1436) and finally brought his invention to perfection at Mayence, with the assistance of Peter Schaeffer and Faust. Similar monuments have been erected in both of these places. Great and ambitious men should make at different times every city of their country their place of residence; this would be an infallible means of securing monuments after death. We will probably soon hear of a new monument to Martin Luther, who resided some time in Frankfurt. His house is near the cathedral marked by his bust and the following inscription: "In silentio et spe erat fortitudo vestra."

But the great treasure of Frankfurt is the statue of Ariadne by Dannecker. It was considered worthy of a separate building, and accordingly a small Grecian temple was erected for its reception. This is one of the finest productions of modern art. It represents Ariadne gracefully reclining on the back of a lioness. As worthy companions to this splendid work, several plaster copies of ancient masterpieces, such as the Venus de Medici, Appollo Belvidere and Laocoon, are arranged on the walls of the rotunda.

Frankfurt has one more important feature which must not be omitted in my imperfect description. On one side is the river Main, from which a broad well shaded promenade, with pleasant walks winding through the thickest foliage, passes entirely round the city. This space was once occupied by fortifications, appropriately converted into a vast lung which supplies the body politic with pure air.

FRED. W. MATTESON.

Election at La Salle.

Editors Press and Tribune:

LA SALLE, Oct. 4th, 1858.

Our city election came off to-day. The Irish have elected their candidates for Mayor and Police Magistrate; Republicans three Aldermen, which gives them the control of the Board. Three days before the election, by accurate count, the Irish were in a minority of forty-eight votes. The discrepancy between this and the result can be easily accounted for by the fact of free whisky and "Dimocratic" (i. e. Irish) inspectors in two Wards.

Yours, LA SALLE.

Conference of German Societies in New York.

Delegates from different German societies in half a dozen States of the Union, met in New York on Friday last, to take measures for making public the ill-treatment received by German emigrants, on ship-board and after their arrival in this country, with a view to inducing Congress to pass a law immediately for their protection.

The meeting was large and respectable, both as to the ability and social position of those who composed it. Mr. Jellinghaus, a member of the Greenwich Street Benevolent Society—an institution of seventy years standing—submitted the following propositions as the basis of the Conference's action:

1. To publish a treatise in which an impartial description of the different countries of the United States is given, with full particulars in geological, physical, agricultural and other respects; thus enabling the emigrant to learn where to settle best, according to his propensities.

2. To work for the suppression of all booking offices in Europe for the interior of America.

3. To sign a petition to Congress asking several new shipping regulations, amongst which we only enumerate:

(a.) Complete separation of females and males on board the ships, married couples naturally excepted.

(b.) No other surgeons shall be engaged on board but those who have passed their examinations and produce diplomas for having taken high degrees.

(c.) The owners and captains of vessels have to guarantee the safe delivery of luggage, and remain responsible in case of loss toward the passengers.

Some debate followed with regard to the first proposition, and the Conference finally adopted the following:

Resolved, That we invite all German societies and other corporations to furnish the New York Board of the German Society quarterly with such information as might be useful for the emigrants at their landing at the different Eastern ports of the United States.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted, with regard to the recommendation of the second proposition, after discussion:

Resolved—1. To publish in the newspapers throughout the whole country, as well as in Europe, warnings against buying tickets for the interior of the United States.

2. To confer with the different American Railroad Companies for the suppression of all booking places in Europe.

3. To ask the intervention of the Executive power at Washington for the purpose of inducing the foreign Consuls and Ambassadors to exert themselves in favor of the suppression of the booking system where it still exists, (France, Great Britain, Belgium, Switzerland, partly, Baden, Wurtemberg, &c., &c.)

The reforms here recommended are proper in themselves; and may, we hope, secure that attention from Congress which their importance demands.

The Accumulation of Specie.

The amount of specie in the banks of London, Paris, New York, New Orleans, Boston and Philadelphia on the 9th ult., was $265,969,025—$179,225,135 more than in October last year. There has been a rapid accumulation during the year, as may be seen by the following figures: February 10, 1858, $189,292,491; April 8, $218,003,696; June 12, $239,823,877; September 9, $265,969,025. With regard to the future in this country the U. S. Economist says:

In the United States the accumulation of coin continues in the banks, and for the coming year is likely to continue to do so, since the imports of goods are small, general industry still depressed, and the exports of the leading staples—cotton, tobacco, &c.—large. The immense sums in coin and notes that have been withdrawn by the banks from circulation in the last ten month, show the great stagnation of business which before actively employed all that money, but as soon as the paralysm came upon the market and payments began to be made in excess of the sums demanded for enterprises, the great reservoirs of money capital began to fill, and they have gone on doing so until the sums of specie amassed excites surprise. Five city banks hold now in round numbers two hundred millions that have been collected from circulation during the year. That sum represents one-fourth the gold production of the past six years. Another fourth has in silver been sent to Asia, and there remains but one-half of the whole production to supply the enlarged channels of circulation, the bills of all other banks and bankers in Europe, and the amounts hoarded, when business shall have revived. The large reserve of bullion will flow into its channels, in connection with the new large supplies from the mines. From these sources there will in two years be 400 million of gold to spare to business, and this will be aided by at least 100 millions of paper issues, which have the same effect upon enterprise. This volume of currency impending upon the six commercial centres enumerated, will be aided by a very large yield of national products in Europe and America with the newly opened Chinese Empire to operate upon.

New Paper in Ogle County.

The Lane Leader is the name of a new Republican paper started in Ogle county at the flourishing town of Lane on the Fulton Road, 75 miles from Chicago. The editor is John R. Howerth, a practical printer and a good writer. The paper is got out in a very neat style, and is one of the handsomest of our country exchanges.

We copy the following from the first issue:

Less than five years ago, our village, taking its name from Dr. R. P. Lane, now a resident of Rockford, reared its head amid the most beautiful and fertile rolling prairies of the west. It is located upon the Fulton line of the "Chicago and Galena Union Railroad," and is seventy-five miles directly west of Chicago. The population now numbers over one thousand—containing for its age more handsome residences, substantial stores and warehouses than any town similarly situated in the West. Some estimate may be formed of the business of our village from the fact that during the year previous to July 1st, 1858, 800,000 bushels of grain were shipped east by railroad; and some idea of its present growth may be inferred from the fact that since our first advent here, July 10th, 1858, there have been completed and now in process of erection thirty-six buildings, including a church, school-house, planing-mill, warehouses, stores, dwellings, etc., etc.

The Recaptured Slaves at the Agent's of the Colonization Society.

The Colonization Journal for October, after giving the history of the capture and disposal of the slaves on board the Echo, says:

After the arrangement to place the slaves under the care of the American Colonization Society, that Society immediately sent a telegraphic message, inviting Rev. T. J. Bowen, of Georgia, to go out with them and see to their safe landing and education. Mr. Bowen declined, on account of his still feeble health; whereupon the Rev. John Seys, so well known by his former labors in Liberia, and very recent ones at Careysburg, was appointed, and has accepted the agency. As he was in Illinois, and could not arrive in season to go out in the Niagara, he came on to Washington, and is now ready to take passage in the packet M. C. Stevens, which is to sail Nov. 1st from Baltimore.

In the absence of Mr. Seys, Dr. Rainey received an appointment from the Government to take charge of the recaptured on the voyage to Africa.

New Mexico.

The following is the substance of late advices from New Mexico:

The people seem contented with their territorial condition; at least are making no movement towards admission as a State. The number of American immigrants to this Territory is yet very small. A large portion of the natives continue sullenly hostile to the American Government. This is the same party of native New Mexicans who used to vote for Padre Gallegos. The people are all Roman Catholics. The native priests are in disgrace with the Pope, having been excommunicated. A considerable number of French priests have been sent to fill their places. But the people adhere to their native pastors, who continue to exercise their functions without regard to their standing at Rome.

Sugar Cane.

The Illinois Farmer says the Chinese sugar-cane is ripening finely in the neighborhood of Springfield, and Mr. Dupuy, of Cincinnati, has every preparation made for its manufacture into molasses and sugar.

We notice that many farmers in the Northwest are manufacturing on their own account. The cane has ripened well in Minnesota, and good molasses is being made from it. Messrs. Chapman & Raff, in the neighborhood of Florence, Nebraska, says the Courier of the 28th ult., have made about a hundred gallons of excellent molasses, and contemplate the manufacture of sugar.

☞ The Governor of New Hampshire has appointed Thursday, November 25, for Thanksgiving. This is the first State in which the day has been designated this year.

Personal and Political.

A correspondent of the Albany Evening Journal met ex-President Van Buren the other day on his way to the Fair at Syracuse, looking as hale and as hearty as thirty years since.

—A son of Hon. A. G. Talbot, M. C., of Ky., has made his debut in the ring as a clown. The family is one of the proudest and wealthiest in Kentucky, and this escapade of the young gentleman must occasion them inexpressible mortification.

—Lola Montez has offered to deliver a lecture to aid in re-building the church of the Good Shepherd some weeks since destroyed by a tornado. Rev. Ralph Hoyt, the Rector, has written a letter accepting the lady's offer, and the lecture is soon to come off.

—The double elopement that lately culminated at Cleveland has become still more complicated by the discovery that the elder Lewis, who married "Mary" before the "old man" and the officers arrived on the ground, has another wife. He has been arrested for bigamy, and is now in jail at Euclid awaiting his trial. Poor Mary will now have an opportunity to "repent at leisure."

The London Times announces the re-appearance in that city of Thomas Alsop who fled to this country during the excitement consequent upon the attempted assassination of the Emperor Napoleon.

—The "Autocrat of the Breakfast-Table" still lives. The Boston Transcript, good authority in literary matters, says:

"We are glad to be informed, as we have been, that the papers which have commanded such universal admiration are to be continued indefinitely—with a new title, certainly—but with all the characteristics which have given to them their brilliant and enduring fame."

Great Fire at Jacmel, Hayti—Loss Over a Million and a Quarter.

From the Feuille du Commerce, of the 21st ultimo, we learn that on the 15th of August a destructive fire occurred at Jacmel. "The most beautiful part of the city," says the account, "the principal seat of commerce, is a heap of ruins. The fire was discovered between 8 and 9 o'clock at night, and in spite of the efforts of our citizens to arrest its progress, in three hours seventeen buildings, with the Custom House and offices of the port, were consumed." The loss occasioned by this fire is estimated at $3,840,000, (Haytian money,) or about $1,382,500 federal currency.

☞ The receipts of the Michigan State Agricultural Fair were $4,354 80. This is $1,300 more than last year.

UNIFORMITY OF TEXT BOOKS

FOR THE SCHOOLS OF ILLINOIS, WISCONSIN and Iowa. Books published by

S. C. GRIGGS & CO.,
39 and 41 Lake street.

1st—SANDERS' SERIES OF READERS AND SPEAKER—11 Books.

Distinguished for their strictly progressive character, and practical adaptation to the young. They have been officially adopted by the State Superintendent of Schools in most of the States which have selected a uniform series, by hundreds of Town and County Superintendents in other States; are in use in the principal cities, and in more than ten thousand schools in the United States and Canada, and are selling at the rate of more than a million copies a year.

2d—THOMSON'S SERIES OF ARITHMETICS AND MATHEMATICS—10 Books.

This series has an eminently practical character, and is distinguished by a judicious union of the inductive and synthetic modes. Intelligent and decisive recommendations have been given by hundreds of teachers in the Union, among whom are Superintendents of several states which have adopted a uniform series, and many others. The sale is over 100,000 a year, and rapidly increasing.

3d—WILLSON'S SERIES OF HISTORIES—5 Books.

These are the only complete graded system of Histories for schools ever published. They have been received with universal commendation by Teachers, have been recommended by upwards of fifty Presidents and Professors of Colleges in different parts of the United States; by over three hundred Principals of Academies, &c., and by a majority of the School Commissioners of the State of New York.

4th—FASQUELLE'S FRENCH SERIES—10 Books.

These works combine the two rival systems, the oral (adopted by Ollendorff, Robertson and Manesca and Old Classical or Grammatical, and are constructed on the plan of "Woodbury's Method with the German." The Reading Books are selected from the best French authors, carefully edited, with copious notes and references, and neatly executed. The "Course" has had a success unrivalled in America, having passed through some fifty editions, and been re-published in England. Teachers of the French Language approve these works with great cordiality and unanimity. They are already the leading French Text-Books in the New England States, New York, New Jersey, and the North-Western States, and are rapidly gaining ground everywhere.

5th—WOODBURY'S GERMAN SERIES—9 Books.

Professor Schmidt, of Columbia College, says:—"The 'Method' is truly admirable, and with willing learners can not fail to accomplish the most satisfactory results." Professor Torrie, of Dartmouth College, says: "Having for the past two years used it in the College and the Female Seminary in this place, I find that nothing better can be desired. No German teacher will hesitate to adopt it in preference to all others." Rev. Dr. Nast, editor of Der Christliche Apologete, Hon. R. Allen, Commissioner of Rhode Island, President Allen, Girard College, and other well known teachers, have also commended the "Method" or other portions of the Series.

Rev. C. H. SPURGEON, of London.

1 Vol....12mo....Price $1.00.

We have gathered from his discourses many of the most striking passages, and set them in these pages without regard to the order of subjects, or their relations to each other; a series of earnest thoughts and graphic pictures all of them revealing the true greatness of the preacher's conceptions, his individuality and strength. No one can read the first page of this volume without feeling that the speaker is no common man.

The publishers present this book as a specimen of Mr. Spurgeon's happiest thoughts, come from his discourses, which will glow in the mind of the reader, and quicken in him a desire to read and hear more of this remarkable youthful preacher.

UNRIVALLED IN THE HISTORY OF MEDICINE.

WHY! BECAUSE SINCE THE FIRST settlements of the rich prairies and fertile valleys of the West, it has been the greatest study of all Physicians to produce a perfect cure for ague, fever, and other bilious diseases, so thoroughly prevalent and so frequently fatal in their results. The mineral and vegetable kingdoms have heretofore been ransacked in vain to find such remedies only partially successful, but this is justly considered stable and will never fail. Reader, we duly ask you to be cured, so obstinate that Mann's Ague Balsam will not cure; we do not hesitate to say that the remedy so long sought has at length been found that will never fail. Read the following:

Oberlin, Ohio, June 14, 1858.

Messrs. S. K. Mann & Co.—Gents: Having had occasion to use some of your Ague Balsam in my family, I find it the most prompt and efficient remedial agent for the certain cure of ague ever used, and as a general family medicine I think it has no equal.

Your Ob't Serv't,
SAM'L HENRY.

Olney, Ill., September 22, 1857.

Messrs. S. K. Mann & Co.—Gents: Your Ague Balsam is the only remedy that seems to meet the wants of the people of this locality. We have, upon our shelves, all the popular remedies of the day for the cure of ague and fever, but Dr. Mann's Balsam sells in preference to all others, from the simple fact that it cures. I consider it to excel all other remedies ever offered. Truly Yours,

G. W. HAYES.

Dr. Mann & Co., Gallon, Ohio—Gents: Your Ague Balsam is the people's own remedy, in this part of the country, for the cure of ague and fever. We have never known it to fail in any case when properly used. It is looked upon as a perfect antidote to malarious diseases.

Very Truly Yours,
Cairo, Ill., May 15th, 1858. REED & PHILLIPS.

Seymour, Ind., April 22, 1858.

Messrs. S. K. Mann & Co., Gallon, Ohio—Gentlemen: I would say for the benefit of all concerned, that I have a little daughter, about six years of age, that has had the chills ever since last fall; we could do nothing with it till we received your Balsam. We commenced giving it according to directions and are happy to state that she has not had a chill since she commenced taking it. I shall use my exertions in the bounds of my influence to give your Balsam a circulation.

Respectfully Yours,
E. P. EDWARDS.

S. K. MANN & CO., Proprietors, Gallon, Ohio.

C. J. WOOD & CO., St. Louis, Mo., sole wholesale agents for all the Western States and Territories, and for sale by SARGENT & ILSLEY, Chicago, Illinois, and by all good druggists in this county.

FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE,

RESPECTING

Dr. Christie's Ague Balsam.

DR. CHRISTIE'S AGUE BALSAM is the best remedy for the permanent cure of Chills and Fever, Fever and Ague, Dumb Ague, and all malarious diseases incident to the climate.

DR. CHRISTIE'S AGUE BALSAM has never been known to fail where the directions have been strictly followed.

DR. CHRISTIE'S AGUE BALSAM is a PURELY VEGETABLE COMPOUND, Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Strychnine, or anything of a poisonous or deleterious nature.

DR. CHRISTIE'S AGUE BALSAM has had for years the largest sales of any remedy for this specific disease ever offered to the public.

DR. CHRISTIE'S AGUE BALSAM has attained its immense popularity through its own merits, its great power in curing disease, its entire harmlessness and freedom from hurtful ingredients. It can be taken by the tenderest infant, vigorous youth and feeble age, ever without injury, and always with benefit.

READ WHAT AGENTS SAY.

Dr. H. Summes, of Mattoon, Ill., under date of Aug. 24, 1858, says: "Send me another lot of Christie's Ague Balsam as I have but two bottles in store, and the demand is on the increase. I am insuring every bottle, and not one has been returned."

J. W. Plummer, Druggist, Vinton, Iowa, under date of Aug. 24th, 1857, writes: "Send me a gross of Christie's Ague Balsam. I have but three bottles on hand and it is selling rapidly. It is the best remedy for Ague I have ever sold."

Mr. A. N. Blackledge, of Metamora, Ind., writes us June 12, 1857, and says that the Balsam has cured in every case where taken. He says that one case came from the Wabash, Mr. A. W. Swigert, who had the Ague eighteen or twenty months. He insured three bottles and used them. He took only one bottle and the result was a permanent cure. He had paid about $50 doctor bills.

AFFLICTED FOR YEARS.

Delphos, O., Jan. 11, 1858.

Messrs. Hunt & Gardner—Gents:—I wish to make known to the public an article, from which I have derived more benefit than from all other medicines which I have ever used. I have been suffering from Fever and Ague and its effects for the last five years, during which time I have scarcely enjoyed a day of good health, until I procured from your drug store a bottle of Dr. Christie's Ague Balsam. In a few days I found myself clear of ague and rapidly recovering my health. I have not felt a symptom since (commencing taking it, (about three months,) although constantly exposed to cold weather. To my friends and the public generally, suffering from this disease in any form, I would say, procure a bottle and save health, constitution, and money.

Yours, J. B. GROSCOST.

Above are only a few testimonials in favor of CHRISTIE'S AGUE BALSAM, but space forbids publishing more. Price $1 per bottle, or $5 for six bottles for $5.

LIVER INVIGORATOR.

These Gums remove all morbid or bad matter from the system, supplying in their place a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the stomach, causing food to digest well, purifying the blood, giving tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the cause of the disease—effecting a radical cure.

Billious attacks are cured, and, what is better prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the food from rising and souring.

Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents nightmare.

Only one dose taken at night, loosens the bowels gently, and cures costiveness.

One dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia.

One dose of two teaspoonfuls will always relieve Sick Headache.

Only one dose immediately relieves Colic, while

One dose often repeated is a sure cure for Cholera Morbus, and a preventative of Cholera.

Only one bottle is needed to throw out of the system the effects of medicine after a long sickness.

One bottle taken for Jaundice removes all sallowness or unnatural color from the skin.

One dose taken a short time before eating gives vigor to the appetite and makes the food digest well.

One dose often repeated cures Chronic Diarrhoea in its worst forms, while Summer and Bowel Complaints yield almost to the first dose.

A few bottles will cure Dropsy by exciting the absorbents.

We take pleasure in recommending this medicine as a preventative for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a Bilious type. It operates with certainty, and thousands are willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.

ALL WHO USE IT ARE GIVING THEIR UNANIMOUS TESTIMONY IN ITS FAVOR.

☞ Mix water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

PRICE ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

Dr. J. Hostetter's Bitters.—These Bitters are universally acknowledged to be a sure preventive and cure for Fever and Ague, Flatulence, heaviness of the stomach, or any other like affection. Their effect upon the system is most miraculous; they give a healthy tone to the system, remove all morbid matter, and in fact thoroughly cleanse the system of all impurities. The proprietors, in presenting this preparation to the public, assure them that in no single case, when it has been used according to their directions, has it been known to fail, but on the contrary, new virtues have been discovered in its use. To those afflicted with any of the above ills of the body, the "Bitters" are offered as a sure and certain cure. Try them and form your own opinion.

For sale by Druggists and dealers generally, everywhere. se27-3w-d&w

All those who are afflicted with any Chronic disease considered incurable, will receive a LETTER giving information which will insure a speedy and permanent cure by sending their names and one stamp (to prepay postage) to Dr. E. B. FOOTE, the celebrated Chronic Physician, and author of "Medical Common Sense." Saratoga Springs, N. Y. se14-3md&w-a834

Sawyer's Fluid Extract of Bark, an infallible remedy for the Fever and Ague, and the various forms of Billious Diseases, Intermittent, Remittent, Chill Fever and Dumb Ague, having their origin in malaria of very fertile and marshy districts, prepared by Dr. J. S. Sawyer, Druggist and Chemist, and sold by Sawyer, Paine & Co., No. 16 Lake street, Chicago.

This remedy is prepared entirely from vegetable substances, and contains no mercury, arsenic, or anything that can prove injurious to the system. Its effects are those of a deobstruent and tonic, well adapted to restore the healthy action of the Liver and Stomach, whose functions are so generally impaired in this class of diseases.

Quinine and other tonics serve only in many cases to break the chills, but do not remove the disease of the liver and other organs implicated, on which the chill and Fever depend: hence the usefulness of the "Fluid Extract of Bark," (particularly in regions where Physicians cannot be readily consulted), which contains all the qualities suited to the indications of these maladies.

Hundreds of testimonials in regard to the efficacy of the medicine from persons of respectability, have been given to the proprietor—but he does not make use of them as he prefers to have the medicine introduce itself on its own merits.

Dyspepsia and Fits.—Dr. O. Phillips Brown, the Great Curer of Consumption, was for several years so badly afflicted with Dyspepsia that for a part of the time he was confined to his bed. He was eventually cured by a prescription furnished him by a young clairvoyant girl. This prescription, given him by a mere child, while in a trance, has cured everybody who has taken it—never having failed once. It is equally as sure in cases of Fits as Dyspepsia. The ingredients may be found in any Drug Store. I will send this prescription to any person on the receipt of one stamp to pay postage. Address DR. O. PHILLIPS BROWN, se6-3m No. 21 Grand-st., Jersey City, N. J.

Charles' London Cordial Gin.—The Original and only London Gin Imported. This Gin, distilled in London from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the Vegetable Kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent medical men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic drink in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of Dyspepsia, Gout, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Gravel, Colic, Cholera, Fever and Ague, Stricture, Diseases of the Urinary Organs, the Kidneys and the Bowels, Nervous Debility, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to settlers in the Southern and Western States, as well as for travellers exposed to change of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and pints thirty-eight cents, by all Druggists, Grocers, Fruiterers, and Country Merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'. NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

How a Defaulting Cashier carried on his Rascality for four years.

The Boston Atlas gives some interesting particulars of the way in which the defaulting cashier of the Brighton Bank managed his rascality: "The reason for the recent resignation of Mr. Robert N. Woodworth, cashier of the Brighton Bank, has become apparent. He turns out to be a defaulter, having made way, as is alleged, with some $440,000 belonging to the Bank. An investigation is progressing by the directors. The Bank is said to be secured against loss by the bondsmen of Mr. Woodworth and by his private property, which has been made over to the Bank to protect it from loss. It is said he has been indulging in fancy stocks for some time, and which, as is generally the case, has brought him down. He is a leading Baptist in Brighton, and the revelations are heard with concern by the Church. It was supposed at first that the roguery was of recent occurrence, and this opinion was all the stronger from the fact that the cashier's books have balanced with the nicest exactness, and the examination of its affairs by the Bank Commissioners in May last, revealed no suspicious circumstances. A few days since the President of the Bank, S. H. Bennett, received an inquiry from the President of the Faneuil Hall Bank, whether he should furnish Mr. Woodworth with $20,000 on New-York on account of the Bank of Brighton. He at once refused, saying if they did it it was at their own risk. Mr. Bennett was then informed that they had allready let him have the same amount. This led to an investigation, and to the confession of Mr. Woodworth that he had for four years been appropriating the funds of the Bank to his own use, for speculation and other purposes. He had purchased a house in Brighton for $15,000, which was furnished in palatial style, speculated at second hand, given 1,000 towards the erection of the Baptist Church edifice in that town, bought and sold fancy and other stocks, &c., &c. When his rascality was in danger of being discovered he sold his house for $10,000 at the same time discharged a mortgage upon it of $5,000. At the same time he got rid of stocks in the Suffolk Mills. Mr. Woodworth asserts with great emphasis that the Bank will be indemnified. His bondsmen will be called upon, we suppose, as a sacrafice. The directors are disposed to be lenient with their officer. Mr. Woodworth states that he has within a short time lost $7,000 by a real estate speculation in building a block of houses, with which the directors had not the least suspicion that he was connected, as the busines was carried on in the name of another person. He is temporarily in charge of one of the directors. His friends deeply sympathize in his misfortunes, and will do all in their power to relieve him. He has a wife and two children."

A New Territory Ready for Annexation.

TAMATO V, King of Ralatea and Tabas, two of the Society Islands, was dethroned a few months since by his subjects, a portion of whom came to the conclusion of offering the government of the United States.

"Accordingly, on the 25th of May last, the Govenors, &c. of Tahaa, one of the two Islands under this government, invited the United States Consul, Henry Owner, Esq., to a public dinner, and after making a number of speeches, placed in his hands several copies of a letter of the Government of the United States, asking admission into the Union; and offering to place their island in the possession of the United States, without asking any thing for themselves, and without demanding any thing like purchase money, or making any stipulation: or, in other words, presenting themselves, their islands and their government, unconditionally. Mr. Owner, in a neat speech, accepted their letter and promised to forward it to the United States; stating that his instructions bound him not only to accebt and forward letters from governments, &c., as in the the present case, but also from the humblest person present; and that he would forward their letters with pleasure, and by the first opportunity. This movement was followed by the Govenors of Raiatea, on the 7th of June, by a similar letter."

This state of things, however, was not at all plesing to the French, who exercise a sort of protectorate over the whole Society group. Accordingly, the armed brig Hydrographe made a descent upon the negotiators, and took a number of them, including several American citizens, prisoners to Tahiti.

The Late Ocean Calamity.

The few surviving witnesses of the thrilling scenes enacted in the destruction of the ill-fated steamer Austria, are recieving daily letters and visits from parties who had relatives or friends on board the doomed vessel, soliciting tidings concerning the fate of the missing ones. Many of these meetings are painful, even heart-rending, when the husband hears pronounced by a stranger's lips the last words of his lost companion, and listens to the recital of the prattle of his darling babes. A meeting of this nature occured at Chelsea yesterday, between Mr. Henry A. Smith, one of the rescued passengers, and a gentleman named Beals, an Englishman, resident in this vicinity, who by this calamity lost a wife and three children, Mrs. Beals, with her three children embarked at Southampton for the purpose of joining her husband in this country. Her mother accompanied her to the ship, and, with tearful anxiety for her welfare, requested Mr. Smith, whom she had learned was coming to Bostan, to take charge of her daughter and grandchildren, and conduct them in safety across the trackless ocean, to their expectant husband and father. This he promised to do. But alas! for human foresight. When the first dread alarm of fire reached Mr. Smith, he was playing with his little charge in the cabin. He rushed on deck, followed by the terror-stricken mother and her babes, a boy and girl an infant. The flames drove the party to the side of the ship, when the little boy leaped into the sea, calling his sister to follow him before she was burned. The girl imitated the example of her brother, and the agonized mother, imprinting a kiss upon the face of her helpless babe, jumped overboard. Their fate was the fate of the hundreds who had perished by this sad disaster.

Profitable Whaling Voyage—Valuable Discovery and Heavy Transaction in Ambergris.

Schooner Watchman. Capt. Charles W. Hussey, of Nantucket, returned to that port about two weeks since from a whaling cruise in the Atlantic Ocean, having been absent about a year. While cruising in Sam Bay the schooner captured a sperm whale, from which was obtained eleven barrals of oil, worth about $450. The most valuable part of the whale, which was a vary large one, and in a perishing state when struck, consisted, however, in the extraordinary secretion in the intestines of about six hundred pounds of ambergris, a solid opaque, inflammable substance possessing a peculiar scent, which it always retain. The Ambergris is supposed to be the product of a disease of the liver, since it is found in whales of a sick and lean appearance, which being struck with a lance, or frightened by the approach of a boat, gave indications of ill health by emitting a yellowish secretion, which colors the water. It is found in no other than the spermacetti whale, and is usually found in lumps weighing from one to thirty pounds. The largest piece before known weighed one hundred and eighty two pounds, and was purchased of the King of Tidore by the Dutch East India Company. Another piece found inside a whale near the Wind-ward Islands, was sold for £500 sterling. The article melts easely into a kind of yellowish resin, and is soluble in alcohol, in which state it is used as a perfume. It is also employed in refining gold, and by Catholics in burning incense in their churches. Whaling vessels touching at Catholic ports are often besieged by the priests seeking to obtain ambergris. The article, however, is rarely obtained, and from its scarcity commands a great price, selling at from ten to sixteen dollars an ounce. The quantity obtained by Captain Hussey was, upon his arrival, shipped to this city, and stored for a single night in a store on city wharf. The owners of the schooner hoped to realize $6000 from the sale of it, and to guard against loss, obtained a policy of insurance and set a watch over it. The next day the entire quantity was sold to an enterprising firm of druggists in this city for the large sum of $10,000, the whale thus yielding $10,450, which is said to be the most valuable on record. The purchasers will probably realise $60,000. We learn that the article is destined for a foreign market.

Illinois Intelligence.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—We are pained to have to announce the death of Dr. T. C. Dodge, of Concord in this county, who lost his life on Saturday night last in the following manner: He was having some wheat thrashed at a place about a mile north of Wilkesboro', and being very desirous to finish it, continued running the machine after dark. At about eight o'clock, some straw got wound around the shaft of the cylinder, and took fire from friction. The man who was "feeding" at once threw off the belt—the cylinder, of course, continuing to revolve with great rapidity—and Dr. Dodge, fearing that all his wheat would be burned by the spread of the fire, snatched up a keg of water which stood by, and jumped upon the "table" to pour it on the flames. His foot slipped and his right leg went into the machine, stopping the cylinder almost immediately, but not until the leg as far as the knee was ground into a hideous tangle of bones and strips of flesh. The cylinder had to be taken off before the unfortunate man could be liberated. He was taken home to Concord, and Dr. Parkhurst was called in, and a messenger sent for Dr. C. R. Parks, of our city—amputation being of course judged necessary. Dr. Parke arrived at Concord at half past one on Sunday morning, when Dr. Dodge had already been dead half an hour. He seemed quite cheerful and hopeful up to the time the messenger left for Dr. Parke, but soon began to sink, and continued to do so until he died, at one o'clock, five hours after the accident. Dr. Parkhurst did all that could be done to stimulate and rouse up his system, but without avail. The patient was perfectly rational up to twenty minutes before death. He leaves a wife and four children.—Bloomington Pantagraph, 4th.

SAD ACCIDENT.—We learn that while firing a salute at the Douglas demonstration in Pekin on Saturday last, two men were severely if not fatally injured by the premature explosion of a cannon. It was reported when the boat left that evening, that one of them was thought to be dying.—Peoria Transcript, 4th.

KIDNAPPING.—From Mr. L. B. Filley, Postmaster at Kane, we learn that R. T. Breck, of Kane, and Joseph L. Piggott, of Hancock county, Ill., by force and contrary to law took the daughter of the late Cyrus R. Lake, a child of some ten years, and carried her off to Missouri, on Monday last. It seems that the girl was the daughter of Mr. Lake by his first wife, and that Mr. Piggott is the uncle. The child was taken from the arms of its stepmother with much difficulty, amid the cries and screams of the little one, and though immediate pursuit was made, the kidnappers succeeded in making good their escape. We understand that steps are being taken to get legal possession of the child and bring the abductors to an account for the outrage.—Prairie State (Jerseyville), 1st.

SUDDEN DEATH.—On the last day of the County Fair, at Joliet, Myron Pierson, of Plainfield, formerly Judge of Will County, died of an apoplectic fit on the fair ground. The melancholy occurrence cast a gloom upon the occasion.—Lockport Telegraph, 2d.

THE ACCIDENT AT PEKIN.—It appears that a printer, Mr. Ohr, and a saddler, named Frank ——, were assisting to load the cannon, and while thus engaged, it discharged itself; the ramrod taking off both of Mr. Ohr's hands. The wad struck him in the abdomen, burning him severely, and the flame from the explosion burnt out both his eyes, and otherwise disfigured him. The other gentleman lost his left thumb and was otherwise slightly injured.—Peoria Union.

A MAGNIFICENT HAUL OF PLUNDER.—The following extraordinary statement, given in the Bombay Telegraph, has been before briefly noticed: "It is stated in a letter from Banda that General Whitlock's column have made a large 'haul' from the rebels: A company of the Madras 43d Native Infantry, attached to the column, found 140 card-loads of gold bricks and nuggets and forty lacs of rupees, and more was expected to be discovered. Besides this large amount of treasure, an immense quantity of jewels has been found. These are supposed to have been the jewels belonging to the Peishwa's family, which fifty years ago, mysteriously disappeared from Poonah, and were supposed to be in the possession of Scindia or Holkar. It is believed they were stolen by Bajee Row's brother, the adopted father of the present Narrein Row, who is now a prisoner. The treasure and jewelry found are said to be of the value of nine crores of rupees, or nine millions sterling." The last news of the Nena Sahib was that he had crossed the Gogra, and was reported to have sold his famous ruby, valued by the natives at £1,000,000, for £1000.

SINGULAR PRESENTIMENT AND RESULT.—The Cincinnati Gazette relates the singular freak of a lady just returned to that city from a visit to Europe, by which she lost her money and jewelry but saved her life. Before the sailing of the ill-fated Austria the lady sent the money to the agent at Hamburg to secure a passage and a good state room. On her arrival, she found the vessel so crowded and her room so distasteful, that she concluded to take another steamer to New York. The agent would not refund the money, but still she took passage in another vessel. So impressed was she after she had done so, that some terrible calamity would befall the steamer she had chosen, that she sent her watch, jewelry, &c., in a casket by the captain of the Austria to her friends in this country. The result was that she lost her passage money and jewelry, but saved her life.

LOCUST EATERS.—The Tien Sin correspondent of the London Times gives the following picture of Chinese gastronomy:

"The crowds of Chinese thinned off as the distance from the city increased, and those who were present divided their attention between curiosity to see the barbarians, and catching locusts for their next day's meal. During the last fortnight all Tien Sin have been eating locusts in a roasted state; itinerant venders shout "Locusts, fine fresh locusts!" all day long; every bird (and sparrows are as inpertinent here as elsewhere) may be seen with a locust in his mouth. Gunboats report acres of drowned locusts having been seen floating in the river, yet there is no diminution of them, and with all this prodigious number of insects, sweeping herbage and crops off the province of China, the natives do not complain as if it was an unusual visitation."

JEFF. DAVIS ON NOAH WEBSTER.—In a speech delivered on the 22d September, at the Maine State Fair, in Augusta, Jefferson Davis paid a Mississippian's tribute to a Yankee spelling book:

"You have a right to be proud of your achievements in the school house, in the public assembly, in the work shop, in the field, and on the sea. You have a right to be proud that your manufactures encircle the world. This is the power of mind over matter. This is what makes your people great. Above all other people we are one, and above all books which have united us in the bond of a common language, I place the good old spelling book of Noah Webster. We have a unity of language which no other people possesses, and we owe this unity, above all else, to Noah Webster's Yankee spelling book."

IMPROVISING.—An Itallian girl named Giannini Milli, is taking the aristocracy by storm with her wonderful improvisations. Florence and Vienna are rivals in contending for her presence. On these occasions subjects are proposed in writing by the audience and lodged in an iron urn, when the number agreed upon, usually a half a dozen or, more are drawn by lot before her appearance. When she enters, the music, which fills the intervals of recitation, ceases; the theme is presented in the midst of the general salutations, and then, after a moments pause, her charming voice runs into an easy flow, like an endles river, without obstruction—never weary, rarely hurried.

FIFTEEN HUNDRED MILES IN A BALLOON.—M. Garniva, a French machinist, has, it is said, perfected his aerial ship, at a cost of 300,000 franc, and made a voyage to Algiers, Africa, and back with it—a distance of fifteen hundred miles from the starting point. The average speed was almost one hundred miles an hour. M. Garvina is to make the attempt from Havre to the city of New York as soon as he has tested the character of his ship by a few short trips over the Mediterranean and its neighboring provinces.

A SPANISH BEAUTY.—Mdlle. Paniega is the name of the young Spanish beauty who is about to become the bride of the Duke de Malakoff. Her beauty is of the true Andalusian type, raven black hair, long dark lashes, eyes dark and lustrous, and a complexion like the fruit of the "pale and gentle olive;" all perpectly contrasting with the style of her fair cousin, the Empress Eugene. As the Duke is at present ambassador to London, she will reside there, and of course be a bright particular star in fashionable society.

"LITTLE SLIPPERY ELM."—A man came into our office the other day and wished to know what was the latest political news. Said he, "what is the latest political news from the little slippery elm—where is he now?" "Who do you mean by little slippery elm," asked we. "Why Douglas," said he, "they used to call Jackson 'old Hickory,' and I think 'little slippery elm' would suit Douglas as well." That will do, thought we.—Mattoon Gazette.

Two farmers riding along together met a large number of clergymen, and one of them said to the other—"Where are all these parsons coming from?" To this his friend replied, "They have been at a visitation." The other, no wiser than before, asked, "What's a visitation?" The answer was, "Why it's where all the parsons go once a year and swops their sermons." His friend thus enlightened, quietly remarked, "Hang it, but our fellow gets the worst on it every time!"

INCOMBUSTIBLE SHIPS.—A New York paper says: "We earnestly entreat of Congress that not another session shall be allowed to pass without a law making it a crime to send to sea another passenger ship, new or old, which has not been proved so far incombustible that the running of fire along her decks or ceilings shall be henceforth impossible.

A NEAT HIT.—The Utica Observer prints a lengthy article to show that Amasa J. Parker is a "self made man." Whereupon the Herald of the same city says: "While we shall not deny the point, we do seriously deplore the fact that he is such a wretched poor carpenter!"

THE KANSAS CITY REAL ESTATE Association will offer at Public Sale to the highest bidder

SIX HUNDRED LOTS
IN KANSAS CITY, MO.,
THE METROPOLIS OF THE FAR WEST!

Commencing WEDNESDAY, October 20, 1858, and continuing three days.

No city in the West combines greater or more varied advantages, Commercial, Agricultural and Manufactural, and few places present instances of such rapid development.

THE GEOGRAPHICAL CENTER OF THE UNION!

Kansas City is situated at and below the Mouth of the Kansas River, on the Great Angle of the Missouri River, where that stream changes its course for the east after flowing southward more than two thousand miles, leaving Kansas City the nearest point on navigable water to a region the most fertile in the world, and more extensive than the States of Missouri, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, and Ohio combined.

RAPID GROWTH OF KANSAS CITY.

An insignificant "landing" for Westport and Independence in 1855 with a few hundred inhabitants—Kansas City in 1858 contains a population of 7,000, and at no previous time were so many, and extensive improvements in progress.

ITS COMMERCE WITH THE TERRITORY AND THE GREAT PLAINS.

The commerce of Kansas City is commensurate with its unrivaled advantages as the gateway of the Territory of Kansas, and the Metropolis of the Plains. The statistics of its trade compiled from the books of its merchants show its business for 1857

Over Six Millions of Dollars!

This immense trade which exceeds that of any other city of the same population in the United States embraces sales and imports to the Territory of Kansas, New Mexico, the Indian country, Southwestern Missouri, and the regions lying at the base of the Rocky Mountains.

NATURAL RAILWAY CENTER.

The terminus of the Pacific Railroad, from St. Louis, has recently been located at Kansas City, and the prospect is certain of its completion in less than two years. Charters have also been obtained for roads to connect Kansas City with the great systems of Eastern Railways, stretching westward, from Chicago on the northeast to Memphis on the southeast. These Railways will converge at nearly equal distances at the mouth of Kansas River. Kansas City is manifestly the natural starting point of the Great Central Railroad to San Francisco, and as the farthest western central point of Steamboat navigation. It must become the Railroad focus of the broad and fertile lands beyond.

TERMS OF SALE.—One-third in hand, the balance in one, two and three years, with six per cent. interest per annum.

All letters desiring further information will meet with prompt attention if addressed to the Secretary of the Association. J. LYKINS,
President Kansas City Real Estate Association.

Oysters.

Telegraph News by the Atlantic Cable.

THE OYSTER SEASON IN ENGLAND has commenced and the honorable Lords and Cockneys of Her Majesty's realm were, as they supposed, regaling their palates with the best of those Bivalves that either hemi-phere afforded. But they have found out their mistake, and the Copper Flavored Oysters of Great Britain are in no demand, they cannot be given away. This revolution was caused by the advent of a few cases of Hatch, Mann & Co.'s celebrated Baltimore Oysters in the London market, which had been ordered by a steamer to be used in the Festivities of the Celebration. Hatch, Mann & Co. have opened their Great Western Wholesale Depot at No. 139 North Water street (between Clark and Lasalle streets, in Abby & Co.'s Stoneware Depot), where can be found by the case, Shell Oysters constantly on hand.

The reputation that H. M. & Co.'s Oysters have acquired in every market during the past four years is a sufficient guarantee that they cannot fail to give satisfaction superior to all others now in market.

All orders by mail will receive prompt attention.

COMMERCIAL.

Commercial and Money Matters.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, Oct. 6.

MONEY, EXCHANGE, &c.—The scarcity of currency noted yesterday still continues; and business men are very much cramped in conveyance. One of our large banking "institutions" was so completely reduced to day that gold had to be paid out for checks. Eastern Exchange is firm at 1 per cent. prem.

COMMERCIAL.—This has been another "blue" day among the commercial community. The decline in eastern markets, combined with the great scarcity of currency, has had the effect to keep the Breadstuffs market unusually depressed. Flour was dull, and holders seemed inclined to meet buyers at a reduction, but there were few purchasers on the market.

The Wheat market declined still further today. About 37,000 bu Winter were sold at 97@98c for No. 1 Red in store; and 85@88c for No. 2 Red. There was a firm demand for Spring at a reduction of 1c on yesterday's figures. Sales foot up about 60,000 bushels at 63@65c for No. 2 in store; and 52@54c for Rejected.

Corn opened at a decline of 1@2c, but towards the close, several parties, in order to make up cargoes partly loaded, had to advance one cent. About 48,000 bushels were sold at 52c f. o. b. for Canal; 50@51c in store for No. 1; 48c for No. 2; and 45c for Rejected.

There was a better inquiry for old Oats with sales at 43@44c free of storage.

The demand for Barley continues active, and prices have advanced. The sales of No. 2 range from 52@59c in store; and No. 1, 80@85c in store.

There is an active inquiry for choice Timothy Seed at $1.55 per bushel. Holders, however, are generally asking higher figures.

Freights are steady. The rates to-day were: 4c for wheat to Buffalo; 3½c for corn to Buffalo; and 8c for wheat to Oswego and Kingston.

The Cincinnati Commercial of yesterday says:

The market for Flour and Wheat continues greatly depressed, and it is difficult to give reliable quotations; superfine could not be sold at over $4.60, and it is difficult to obtain over $5 for extra white Wheat. The demand is local and quite limited. Wheat very dull. Distillers seem unwilling to pay over 45c for Corn. The intelligence from the growing crop continues of the most favorable nature.

Whisky ruled steady at 19c, with a fair demand, about equal to the amount offering.

In the grocery market there is no important change; the demand is fair, in the regular way, and prices steady.

The receipts of a few leading articles for the week were:

Flour, bbls	15,640
Wheat, bush	41,195
Corn, bush	28,180

Chicago Daily Live Stock Market.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, Oct. 6, 1858.

The market to-day at Sherman's Sale Yards was quite dull: the storm put a stopper on business, and but few transactions were made.

BEEF CATTLE—Dull. Good are nominal at $3@3.25, with very few sales, and a large number left over. After the heavy rains we are having to-day, the weather will be possibly cooler, and allow the large number now in yard to be worked off.

HOGS—Are also dull. The decline in price at New York has flattened the market here, shippers having, for the present, withdrawn. The top price, since yesterday, has been $4.35 for good ones.

Movements of Breadstuffs—Oct. 5.

Wm. G. Cutting's New York Flour and Grain Price Current.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2, 1858.

FLOUR, &c.—The receipts of State and Western Flour have been in excess of the demand, and prices have tended strongly downwards, the decline for the week being 10@25c ℔ bbl. The inquiry has been mainly for home use, and moderate, purchasers only supplying their immediate wants. The export demand has been limited. Yesterday's transactions were light, and the market heavy. Sales of the week 51,000 bbls, closing at $3.50@4.40 for unsound; $4.10@4.25 for Superfine State; $5.30@5.60 for Extra do; $4.25@4.35 for common to good Michigan, Indiana, Iowa, &c; $5.30@5.50 for Extra do; $5.30@5.65 for shipping brands Extra Round Hoop Ohio; and $5.90@7.50 for trade brands do.

Southern Flour has been less buoyant, especially the common description, and prices have favored buyers, closing at $5.40@6.50 for the whole range of common to fancy and choice Extra.

Canadian Flour has been in moderate demand at reduced prices, closing heavily at $5.10@5.20 for Superfine, and $5.50@6.50 for low to choice Extra.

Rye Flour has continued dull at $3.25@4.00 for Fine to Superfine.

Corn Meal has been moderately dealt in, closing firmly at $4.25 for Jersey, and $4.65@4.90 for Brandywine.

GRAIN.—Wheat of prime quality and in good condition is not abundant. The supply generally is moderate, while the demand has been fair for home use, with some inquiry for export, chiefly for inferior parcels. Prices are well supported, especially for the better qualities. Towards the close there has been less activity in the market than was shown in the early part of the week. Yesterday's transactions were quite limited. Sales of the week 182,0 0 bushels, closing at 80@85c for unsound Chicago Spring; $1.07@1.10 for new Milwaukee Club; $1.20 for a small parcel of Winter Western Red; $1.20@1.43 for choice new White Michigan, in small quantities; $1.20@1.30 for White Southern and choice White Kentucky.

Rye is inquired for at 80@81c.

Corn.—The supply is heavy, the demand moderate and prices are easier, closing at 69@74c for unsound to prime Western Mixed; 80@85c for Southern White; and 92@95c for Yellow Southern and Jersey.

Oats continue in good demand, and are firmly held, closing at 48@50c for State and Western, and 46@48c for Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Barley is scarce, and wanted at improved prices; 6,000 bushels were sold yesterday to arrive, at $1.10 per bushel.

U. S. STEAMER MICHIGAN.—This Steamer, says the Leader, arrived at Cleveland Saturday afternoon. At Erie, during the squall of Friday afternoon, she was run into by the schooner St. James, by which her jibboom was carried away, her figurehead staved to pieces, and some other damage done. The schooner was at anchor, but the wind caused her to drag her anchors, and she came upon the Michigan with great force. The schooner had her foresail much injured.

☞ One of the crew of the brig Isabella was drowned at Cleveland last Thursday.

OLD DOMINION COFFEE POT.

Of which the Springfield (Mass.) "Republican" truly says: "Few of the late inventions of the day can claim a success like this already celebrated article of household economy. It is constructed in a neat, simple, though scientific manner, and its advantages are that it makes deliciously fragrant coffee, even if used by an unskillful hands, and retains all the aroma of the berry, that usually escapes in steam when cooked in the old-fashioned way. The draught which it makes is nectar compared with that of old-time coffee pots."

They will work well in back water without any material loss of power, and are not troubled with ice, as they are set inside of the forebay and discharged underneath. It requires a small amount of gearing to set up a high speed, costs but little to set up, and runs upon a step that needs no oiling and will last for years. This Wheel is capable of yielding a power of from 70 to 85 per cent. of the whole power of the water (according to the degree of head) [illegible] and fall, and in all cases it is warranted to work up to the power laid down in the table and to give satisfaction when properly put up and geared. HOP YEAST. ATTENTION HOUSEKEEPERS.—Knowing the difficulty of getting Good Yeast in this city and county, the undersigned has commenced the manufacture of Hop Yeast in Chicago. It is put up in the form of a dry cake and is known as the "New England Dry Hop Yeast Cake." They may be had of any respectable Grocer in this city, and towns in this and adjoining states. By using these cakes and keeping them on hand, you can in two minutes time have a cup of fresh yeast and at an expense of one penny. DIRECTIONS FOR USING.—Break a cake into a cup of blood warm water—it will dissolve in two minutes—then make your sponge and set it to rise over night. Knead your dough well and keep it warm until ready for the oven, and you will have better bread than with any other yeast. One cake is sufficient for three quarts of flour. Retail price, 1 shilling for a package of 12 cakes, or $1.25 for a gross box. Inquire of your grocer for the New England Dry Hop Yeast Cake, and take nothing else; if you would have good raised bread. If he has not it ask him to get it for you. Manufactory on Cottage Grove Avenue, near the Car Works, Chicago, Ill. P. O. address Box 3184. Grocers orders promptly filled whether in city or county. J. W. LEWIS, Agent.

The Battle Ground.

Our readers in the northern part [of the] State where the Democracy entertain [no sus]picion of strength, and hence make n[o bat]tle against the overwhelming Repu[blican] host, can have no adequate idea of the [eager]ness and intensity of the conflict wag[ing in] the Central and Southern counties. [The] great battle ground lies between the p[arallel] of Peoria and the parallel of Alton. [Much] of this field the only ground which the [Demo]crats claim to be debatable is the Se[nato]rial District of Jo Daviess and Steph[enson] and the Representative District comp[rising] the south half of Cook county. In these localities they have been regu[larly] and uniformly beaten since the pa[ssage] of the Nebraska bill—the majoritie[s be]ing larger or smaller just in the [pro]portion it was presumed would be mo[re or] less distasteful to Stephen A. Douglas. [Out] of the broad area constituting the groun[d of] our tournament, we have the never f[ailing] county of St. Clair with her two repres[enta]tives, and one or two other localities w[hich] will give the public more definite info[rma]tion of their attitude after the first of [No]vember. Thus we in the North have com[par]atively little of the frenzy which chara[cter]izes the contest in the wide belt whose bo[und]aries include the cities of Peoria and Al[ton].

It may be safely alleged that Ame[rican] politics have never developed so close [and] heated a campaign as the one now in [pro]gress within this parallelogram. Every [inch] of ground presumed to be doubtful, is [con]tested with the energy of desperation. [The] eyes of the Union are riveted on the com[bat]ants, to the exclusion of all other object[s of] political interest, for all perceive that [the] history of the Republic is shaping it[self] around the Illinois battle field. In the [mo]mentousness of the event, the fate of [Mr.] Douglas' personal self is of trifling con[se]quence. To him it is everything, a[nd] everything else is nothing. To t[he] world, the triumph of free prin[ci]ples or the ascendancy of the do[gma] of Dred Scott, are the vital and absor[b]ing elements of our conflict. Whichever [way] the beam shall fall, (so it is held abroad) [so] way will the nation incline in 1860. Let [the] Republicans, Americans, Whigs, and all wh[o] would bring back the country to the polic[y] of the founders of our government, and plac[e] Abraham Lincoln in the Senate of the Unite[d] States, work on with this sense of respon[si]bility upon them—that they are making th[e] history of their country for many years t[o come].

Amalgamation—One Mulatto for eac[h] Southern Democrat.

The persevering effort of Senator Dougla[s] to persuade his Democratic friends that Negr[o] Equality is a thing greatly to be feared i[n] this State of Illinois, must be founded on [a] more intimate knowledge of their habits an[d] propensities than we pretend to possess. Our Republican orators, from Lincoln down[ward] through the entire list, do not find i[t] necessary to warn their partisans that the[y] must beware how they marry black wives o[r] permit their daughters to take unto the[m]selves black husbands, because it is wel[l] understood in the Republican ranks that mo[st] of the efforts toward Amalgamation are con[]fined to the Pro-Slavery party alone. Talk[ing] to Republicans of the repulsiveness o[f] negro alliances for themselves or others, i[s] like warning them that fire will burn o[r] water will drown—propositions that they have always understood. But as we have aforetime explained, in the South—the source whence the Senator draws his political princi[]ples and his keen dread of the debasement of the white race—there is about one mulatto to every Democratic vote; and as that class of bondmen do not usually get their color without assistance from some one of the Caucasian tribe, we may suppose that Mr. Douglas, there, among the brethren of his own faith, has acquired ideas of the tendencies of pro-slavery principles which he is endeavoring in a warning way to impress upon his followers at the North, where, under the Dred Scott decision, Slavery may shortly be introduced. All this may be very well, but if this is what the Senator is at, why does he not plainly state his case, instead of beating about the bush? Why does he not attack the amalgamationists themselves, face to face, instead of cudgelling them over Republican shoulders? But let us not quarrel with his method. If Mr. Douglas can persuade any of his Democratic brethren here or elsewhere that they should not marry into African families; or, what is more important, that they should not be debasing the white race without marriage—the more common method—he will do them essential service. Go it, Douglas!

Now, Boys!

The nominations are now made and all things are in readiness for a sharp, vigorous, old-fashioned campaign. The Democracy have been working for a month in all the byways, alleys and doggeries in town. In some of these they have become bold and entered the stores, work-shops, foundries, lumber-yards and the dispensaries of "lager." They are unabashed for office and desperate with the prospect of a final and total overthrow. As usual, they have got three or four weeks the start in the campaign, but that is no reason why they should not take their regular flogging and go supperless to bed. Four weeks remain for organization and hard work. Let us turn in and finish the job of last Spring. The Dred-Scottites want to be whipped once more, so they will stay whipped, and the Republicans of Chicago understand precisely how it is to be done. Our friends in the Centre have been fighting with unexampled energy these six weeks. They look for a rousing majority from the unfaltering Republicans of the Garden City, and they shall not be disappointed.

Douglas Frightened Again.

That Douglas is again taken with the tremors of defeat is evidenced by his last list of appointments published in the Times. He is going over the same ground on which he commenced the campaign. His latest appointments include Springfield, Atlanta and Bloomington—at all of which points he has previously spoken. Some foul report too must have reached him from the strong Democratic County of Macoupin, for we find him announced at the town of Gillespie notwithstanding he and the circus performed at Carlinville a couple of weeks ago. He also takes another run into the 36th Representative District where he has already made three speeches, being announced at Decatur on the 18th. Of course he has a right to "distribute himself" where he chooses—if he is
